CONFLICT IS NEAR IN ULSTER

GEMS GONE; WOMAN ACCUSED

DIAMONDS LOST; FOUND AGAIN

REGULAR ARMY OFFICERS RESIGNING

War office at London is deeply disturbed by the resignation of army officers stationed in Ireland. Other officers are expected to resign if ordered to Ulster. Nearly all the officers of the Fourth Queen's Own Hussars stationed at Curragh camp are said to have quit.

Mutiny of two companies of the Dorsetshire regiment stationed at Belfast is reported.

King George keeps in close touch with the situation, summoning the secretary of war to Buckingham Palace.

First victim of the excitement in Ireland was a soldier at Curragh camp, late for roll call, shot and probably fatally wounded while scaling a wall by a sentry.

Ulster takes on martial aspect, all the towns being occupied by regular soldiers. Three thousand regulars arrived in 24 hours. Two destroyers reach Belfast Lough.

Sir Edward Carson, Ulster Unionist leader, seeks to prevent undisciplined outbreak of his followers and desires the government to take the first provocative step. Great animation is shown among the Ulster Volunteers at all Unionist centers.

SIMPLE, IMPRESSIVE TRIBUTE TO A FRIEND

Funeral Services for Joseph E. Baker Attended by Many Who Loved and Admired Him

FUNERAL services for the late Joseph E. Baker were held today with the simplicity and directness that marked the life of the great editor and soldier. The noble words addressed by St Paul to the Corinthians sentences whose sublimity of thought and beauty of diction had often stirred the mind and heart of the master craftsman, were read as the vital part of the Episcopal service, with quiet solemnity. There was no eulogy. The funeral cortege was small, only the immediate family following to Mt View Cemetery to witness the private interment.

The service was held in the chapel of the James Taylor undertaking company in Jefferson and Fifteenth streets. The chapel was crowded with the friends of Editor Baker.

TOKENS OF LOVE.

The bier was covered with floral offerings and surrounded by wreaths and scrolls and clusters of flowers. The character of the man, which had appealed to many men in many walks of life was reflected in the silent floral tributes around his bier. Bunches of simple flowers bore their message of love as directly and truly as elaborate floral set pieces which overshadowed them.

The chapel had been prepared for the service by the placing of palms and long ferns. It formed a beautiful and simple setting for the bier with its wealth of flowers.

Friends came in great numbers to pay their last respects, to offer their last tribute of love and friendship and honor to the dead. In viewing their former friend the shock of death was allayed to some by the quiet serenity of the face of the dead.

Joseph E. Baker had been a true friend and a true workman. He had done his duty as a man in the face of battle and had been a citizen whose services to the community will be of lasting effect for good. With honesty of purpose he had passed through many great battles. But in death the old serenity and peace brought out the fine dignity and distinction of his features, and showed a man upon whose face was set the sign of character and integrity. Friends who bade a last farewell carried away a picture of quiet strength and peace, a memory of Joseph E. Baker that formed a clear interpretation of his many deeds of righteousness, his stability and honesty, his steadfast loyalty and manhood.

SERVICES ARE READ.

The service was the solemn Episcopal ceremony, alike for the great and the humble. Death the great leveler had set its mark upon the man and in the eyes of the church he had become one with all men. The Rev. Clifton Macon, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, read the service, pronouncing the verses of the magnificent fifteenth chapter of the Pauline epistle with the quiet dignity which has made it one of the grandest and most appealing pronouncements in the Gospels.

"For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive."

The service was as the man would have wished it. The words of Paul were uttered quietly down to the promise in the fifty-fourth verse:

So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.

"O death where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?"

SONGS DEAR TO HEART.

Silence came after the reading of the [illegible] and then followed the singing of the simple and beautiful sacred [illegible] that had been dear to Editor Baker's heart. The vocal selections were rendered by the Golden Gate quartet.

Three selections were rendered by the quartet. The service commenced with the introductory burial sentences followed by the reading of the psalm. [illegible] then sang, followed by the reading of the fifteenth chapter of the first epistle to the Corinthians. The quartet sang and the special prayers were offered, followed by the committal service and another vocal selection.

The remains were followed to the grave only by the immediate relatives in three limousines, as the funeral was by auto service. At the grave a silent prayer was offered, and the casket was lowered into the vault.

The grave had been previously lined with bunting and flowers.

George Shima the noted Japanese 'Potato King,' made a flying trip from Los Angeles to attend the services, arriving in Oakland shortly before the ceremonies began and in time to pay his last respects to Mr Baker's memory.

THE PALLBEARERS.

At the chapel were gathered relatives and friends and former associates of Editor Baker. The following acted as honorary pallbearers

SOCIAL SET VICTIMS OF THEFT

Mrs. Marion Corns, Talented Singer Named in Case

Police Called to Investigate Alleged Confession

Mingling in the most exclusive circles, noted as a pianist of rare talent, and sought after by the smart set on both sides of the bay, who honored her at many affairs, Mrs. Marion Lucas Corns, beautiful, talented, daughter of one of the oldest families of Alameda, has made confessions to the police, regarding the disappearance from homes of society folk around the bay of several thousand dollars in jewelry. Most of this it is said has been recovered. The woman is declared by her friends to be a kleptomaniac.

Among the thefts to which the woman is said to have confessed, and through which she was traced, are the following:

From Mrs. P. N. Hanrahan, wife of the well known Oakland sportsman, and a prominent society woman, a diamond pin valued at $300.

Mrs. J. O. Cunha, of Berkeley, wife of the Bank Commissioner, jewelry, valued at about $400.

Mrs. Miller, a sister of Mrs. Belle Cook of 105 Carle street, San Francisco, jewelry valued at $800.

Mrs. Johnson, of Berkeley, declared to have lost a diamond ring; value not stated.

Mrs. Corns, who is known as one of the most talented musicians about the bay, enjoyed an entree into the homes of fashionable women of the bay region. She was first accused when Mrs. Cook, in San Francisco, missing several pieces of jewelry, immediately after Mrs. Corns had been in the house, called three police detectives, who attempted to wrest a confession from her.

STRIKES DETECTIVE.

She is said to have become angry, struck one of the men in the face and left the house. The Oakland police then took up the trail, and Inspectors Richard McSorley and Tom Wood succeeded in gaining, first a confession to the Hanrahan theft, and later to the entire list of which she was accused.

"The woman is undoubtedly out of her mind," declared Mrs Hanrahan. "I will make no statement regarding her, save that I am in deep sympathy. She is a charming girl and I still think a great deal of her. I cannot blame her, for I believe that she is suffering from a mental disease, and not from any desire to do wrong. She is one of the most beautiful and talented women I have ever met."

From Oakland the case went to the Berkeley police. Chief of Police Vollmer looked into the two Berkeley robberies, and this jewelry was also recovered.

Mrs. Corns was Miss Marion Harris of Alameda, daughter of the late W. I. Harris, a retired army officer, and Mrs Laura Harris. The mother is now prostrated with grief and at death's door at the family home, 771 Eagle avenue.

The thefts to which the girl is alleged to have confessed, and in which the police have recovered the jewelry, occurred shortly after last Christ-

Significance Attached to Conference at Vera Cruz

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Secretary Bryan announced today that there had been a conference at Vera Cruz between John Lind and Senor Portillo Y. Rojas, minister of foreign affairs of Mexico. As to its nature, however, Secretary Bryan said no word had reached him.

Significance was attached here to the conference, as re-opening negotiations discontinued some time ago. The further fact that Charge [illegible] and Charge Hohler, the latter of the British Legation also had gone to Vera Cruz gave added hope in Diplomatic circles that some developments might be expected.

Secretary Bryan said he knew nothing of the reports from Mexico

BURKE'S VICTIM IS IN DIRE DISTRESS

Lu Ella Smith Has No Money for Self or Child

Lu Ella Smith, who, nearly five years ago was the object of an attempt on the part of Dr Willard P. Burke of Santa Rosa to dynamite a tent in which she and her infant child were asleep on the grounds of the Burke sanitarium and for which crime the doctor is now serving a term in San Quentin prison, is again in great distress caused by the depletion of her finances.

Accompanied by her child, which she declared is a son of Dr. Burke, she has applied for aid from Alameda county under the provisions of the mothers' pension act. The matter, which was taken up with the county expert, will probably be unproductive of Miss Smith being given any material assistance under the mothers' pension act.

She applied for "half-orphan" aid, but her case does not come under the provisions of the act, the authorities declare. Miss Smith has been living in Berkeley, where friends interested in her case cared for her. At one time she became interested in several university courses with the intention of fitting herself for a position where she could support herself and child after she had made vain attempts to gain support from Dr. Burke's estate.

WEEK-END RIOTS ARE FEARED

3000 Royal Troops Are Ready for Service in Ulster Towns

Leaders of Unionists Hope to Prevent an Outbreak

LONDON, March 21—The outstanding feature of news from Ireland today was the disaffection among the officers of the regular army under orders to proceed to Ulster with their regiments. The actual number of resignations among them was still problematical, but that it was considerable was evident from the earnest early morning consultations of cabinet ministers regarding the best means of counteracting the movement.

The actual fact of this disaffection is the more discomforting to the military authorities since the army is already seriously short of commissioned officers.

Threats of a crisis in the army if a movement of regular troops were undertaken against Ulster had long been current and in some quarters it is believed that the sudden marching of a limited number of troops was ordered so that the military authorities might gather an idea as to how widespread the threatened disaffection was.

ARMY COUNCIL MEETS.

Immediately after Colonel Seely, the secretary for state for war, had been in audience with King George at Buckingham Palace this morning, Colonel Seely summoned a meeting of the army council, which took the necessary steps to replace officers who had resigned.

According to reports, however, the number of vacancies is rapidly increasing and it seems possible that all the regular regiments which have been serving Ulster may have to be withdrawn and replaced by fresh troops, as both men and officers have openly expressed their disinclination to take the offensive against men with whom they have been fraternizing.

This momentary shifting of the immediate crisis from Ulster to the army may give the peacemakers their desired opening.

The return of Arthur J. Balfour, former Unionist premier, to London has given heart to the advocates of a compromise. He and Premier Asquith have served long years side by side in the political field and understand and appreciate one another.

TROOPS MOBILIZING.

BELFAST, Ireland, March 21.—Ulster today presented a sternly martial aspect. All the towns were occupied by soldiers of the regular army and other detachments were marching along the country roads with long trains of baggage and ammunition carts on their way to strengthen the various garrisons.

At all the Unionist centers there feeling of unrest among certain sections of the government troops is very strong. Some of the soldiers and the officers of the infantry battalion quartered in Ulster, including the Dorsetshire regiment and the Norfolk regiment, have expressed openly their disinclination to take the offensive. This does not cause any surprise among civilians, who generally expect wholesale defections. A significant illustration of this was given by the inhabitants of Enniskillen, who hung flags along the streets in honor of the arrival of the Bedfordshire regiment.

the secretaries of state cancelled today their naval week-end trips to the country. Colonel John Seeley, secretary of state for war, and Winston Spencer Churchill, first Lord of the admiralty, conferred at the War Office this morning. After the conference a statement was issued confirming the report of the resignation of army officers serving in Ireland and stating that these cases will be dealt with in due and normal course by General Sir Arthur Paget, the commander-in-chief of Ireland.

"In the meantime the officers concerned," according to the statement, are performing their duties, which duties naturally include obedience to orders.

RESIGNATIONS PLANNED.

Rumors were in circulation today that many other officers of the army serving in the south of Ireland will resign their commissions if ordered to Ulster.

Meantime General Sir Arthur Paget continues to dispose his troops who have orders to safeguard government property and to maintain law and order.

In order to prevent an outburst the police in Ireland have been told not to take any steps to enforce the gun license act in cases where members of the Ulster "volunteers are seen carrying rifles in camp or elsewhere. The act empowers the authorities to seize all unlicensed firearms.

The greatest danger is believed to lie in the possibility that Orange and Nationalist workmen may come to blows and start a general conflict.

King George is keeping in close touch with the situation. He summoned the secretary of state for war to Buckingham palace today and also sent one of his private secretaries to the premier's residence in Downing street to procure the latest information.

COMPANIES MUTINY.

A mutiny of two companies of the Dorsetshire regiment stationed in Belfast is reported by the Pall Mall Gazette today.

"Liberalism will not flinch one inch before the arrogant and insolent plague of Toryism," was the message conveyed today by David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, to a mass-meeting of Liberals at Huddersfield. The chancellor was talking about Ulster and the attitude of the Unionists. He said:

"The country is confronted with the gravest issue in the history of democratic government since the days of the Stuarts. Representative government in this land is at stake. I am here on behalf of the government to say we mean to confront this defiance of popular liberties with resolute and unwavering determination, whatever the hazard may be. We are not fighting about Ulster or about home rule. We are fighting for all that is essential to the civil liberty of this land."

An official order issued says:

"The recent movement of troops in Ulster are purely precautionary, with the object of giving adequate protection to depots of arms and ammunition and other government property against possible risks."

It adds, "There has not been and is not any intention to move troops into Ulster except for these and like purposes."

REGULAR OFFICERS RESIGN.

DUBLIN, March 21.—Field Marshal Sir John French, chief of the imperial general staff, arrived today in connection with the resignations of officers from the regular army owing to their refusal to march against the unionists in Ulster.

Nearly all the officers of the Fourth Queen's Own Hussars stationed at the Curragh camp are said to have handed in their commissions and their places have been filled.

The immediate dispatch of regular cavalry from the Curragh camp to Ulster had to be canceled today owing to resignations of officers of the Sixteenth Lancers and Fourth Hussars. It was reported here today that Brigadier General Hubert de la Poer Gough, the commander of the Third cavalry brigade at the Curragh, composed of the Sixteenth Lancers and the Fourth Hussars, has resigned.

Large bodies of armed police left today for various stations in the north of Ireland.

Scores of special magistrates for service in Ulster were sworn in at the castle this morning.

The first victim of the existing state of excitement in Ireland was a soldier at the Curragh camp, who was late for roll call. He attempted to scale a wall of the barracks and was shot by a sentry. It is thought that the wound will prove fatal.

TROOPS IN READINESS.

ATHLONE, Ireland, March 21.—All the regular artillery stationed in Central and Southern Ireland has been instructed to hold itself in readiness to proceed to Ulster at a moment's notice. All leave has been canceled and officers and men on furlough have been recalled.

It is reported that the infantry reservists have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to join their regiments.

ULTIMATUM TO SOLDIERS.

ENNISKILLEN, Ireland, March 21. The army officers here received a communication from the war office today calling on them to make a definite statement within twelve hours as to whether they were prepared to retain their commissions in the event of hostilities in Ulster. If not, they were told, they must resign forthwith.

BATTLE PENDING.

CONSTITUTIONALIST HEADQUARTERS, Yeemo, Durango, Mex., March 21.—Panche Villa with his 12,000 rebel soldiers today are prepared to begin the investment of Torreon and to storm the trenches of the resisting federal army under General Refugio Velasco in what is considered the decisive battle of the Constitutionalists' revolution.

Full of confidence and certain of victory, General Villa has transmitted his energy to his subordinates, and today Yermo presented a scene which never before has marked a revolutionary movement in Mexico. The soldiers hurried here and there, giving final touches to the establishment of the rebels' plans for an opening assault.

Villa's men were anxious for a fight.

The rebel army was stationed on the outskirts of the federal stronghold, in a position it had gained without resistance. Torreon was comparatively quiet, and none in the rebel camp knew what preparations General Velasco was making to repel the onslaught of the revolutionists.

There was speculation as to when the battle would begin, but Villa answered all inquiries with the reply, "Torreon will be mine in a week."

VALLEJO TO GIVE KNOWLAND VOTES

Announcement of Candidacy for United States Senate Pleases Admirers.

VALLEJO, March 21.—The announcement that Congressman Knowland is to be a candidate for United States Senator this fall was received with satisfaction in the city of Vallejo, where the popular representative from Alameda numbers his friends and admirers by the thousands. "Joe" Knowland has always been one of the best friends that Vallejo ever had in Congress and he should receive a tremendous vote here.

Notwithstanding the fact that he no longer represents this district in Congress he has been ready and willing at all times to take off his coat and fight for the betterment and development of Mare Island navy yard. He has always been at Congressman Curry's side in the latter along and give him the benefit of his long experience among the national lawmakers. Vallejo has never had to ask Mr. Knowland to assist her in the fight to preserve and develop Mare Island. He has always considered it his duty to work for the benefit of this yard and has done so whenever opportunity presented itself.

Senator George C. Perkins, the greatest friend that Vallejo ever had in the United States Senate, is to retire from political life next March, and it is imperative that Vallejo assist in putting a man in his place who will prove equally as friendly as the venerable Senator. The man for the place is Congressman Joseph R. Knowland of Alameda, and he should receive the vote of every man and woman who has the interests of the city of Vallejo at heart.

JEWELS MISSING, WOMAN ACCUSED

mas and from them until recently. Mrs. Hanrahan, who still is friendly to the woman, declares that her troubles have unhinged her mind.

She was first married to a man named Lucas, and on his death to Corns, a Chicago broker, who died some time ago. Her two children, Mary, aged twelve and Richard, aged 14, were taken from her, and are being cared for by relatives of her husband, who are wealthy. She felt keenly their loss. Since the death of her husband she has resided at the home of her parents. Her father died about six months ago.

Mrs. Corns has appeared in fashionable piano recitals at the Adelphian Club, the Ebell Club and other places, and was in charge of the Sacramento county exhibit at the recent land show in San Francisco. It was during this time, it is said, that the Miller robbery took place.

When the three San Francisco detectives examined her at the Cook home, she denied indignantly any thefts, and finally, goaded to fury, struck a detective who addressed her as "blondy," according to the story of the police. The San Francisco authorities released her, but a report on the matter reached the Oakland authorities. The detectives then compiled a list of robberies in homes where she had the entree, and this led to her downfall.

BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.

Mrs. Corns is about 31 years of age and singularly beautiful. She has studied music under Hoffman, Godowski, and other noted teachers, and was well known in Chicago society during the life of her second husband.

Many of the people whose jewelry she is believed to have stolen have been willing to prosecute, and on this account the police have taken no action. Should any be taken, acording to the opinion of her friends, it would result in a lunacy commission hearing. The police are still investigating robberies occurring about the same time as those to which she is said to have confessed.

HOME RULE IN TAXES TO BE DISCUSSED

RICHMOND, March 21.—Home rule in taxation will be the topic discussed at a mass meeting in the auditorium of the Lincoln school house this evening when M. J. Wells, organizer of the Home Rule Taxation League, will open the meeting. There will also be addresses by Councilman W. L. Lane and Judge John Roth of this city.

The city council has refused to go on record favoring home rule in taxes whereby the assessments would be made on the land and not on the improvements for nearly 50 per cent of all taxes paid in this county come from the improvements upon the holdings of the Standard Oil and other large corporations.

EDITOR HAYWARD GIVEN GLAD HAND

Confessed ex-Convict Receives Enthusiastic Welcome After Return Home.

CUMBERLAND, Md., March 21.—Harry S. Hayward, the newspaperman who left here several weeks ago, when, because of his editorial attacks on what he considered evils in the community, a threat was made to expose his criminal record, received an enthusiastic welcome on his return yesterday. He was kept busy shaking hands with residents, including Mayor Young and Mayor-elect Keen, all day.

When Hayward disappeared he left a letter to the proprietor of the newspaper enclosing the anonymous threat and confessing that he had served a prison term.

He said he had tried to live down his past and now that his life was about to be bared to the public, he thought he ought not embarrass his friends. He had been pardoned by Governor Goldsborough.

A monster petition for Hayward's return was signed by the leading men of the city and a "glad-hand committee" of several hundred was formed to welcome the newspaperman back.

The proprietor of the paper announced that Hayward's position remained open to him and instituted a search for him.

ACCOSTS YOUNG GIRL; PUNISHED FOR HIS ACT

"Won't you take a little walk with me?" said George Cordway, an electrician, when he met Miss Beulah Klais, at Twelfth and Broadway. Miss Klais declined the invitation and turned Cordway over to Corporal A. B. Smith, who accepted the invitation and walked with him as far as the city prison.

Cordway pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace this morning before Judge Smith and was given 60 days imprisonment in the city jail as the result of his untimely invitation to Miss Klais.

"He asked me to take a walk with him," declared Miss Klais, "and put his arm around me. I had never seen him before and he frightened me greatly, so I called a policeman."

Miss Klais works in a local candy shop.

INDIGESTION, GAS DYSPEPSIA GONE

"Pape's Diapepsin" Fixes Sick, Sour, Gassy Stomachs in Five Minutes.

Wonder what unset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help; remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach. It's so unnecessary.

SAY FILMS CAUSE ST. VITUS DANCE

Moving Pictures Held as Contributing Factor to Spread of Affection.

PHILADELPHIA, March 21.—The moving picture film is a contributing factor to the spread among children of the nervous affection known as St. Vitus dance, according to the findings of the social service department of the Philadelphia Orthopedic Hospital and Infirmary for the Nervous Diseases.

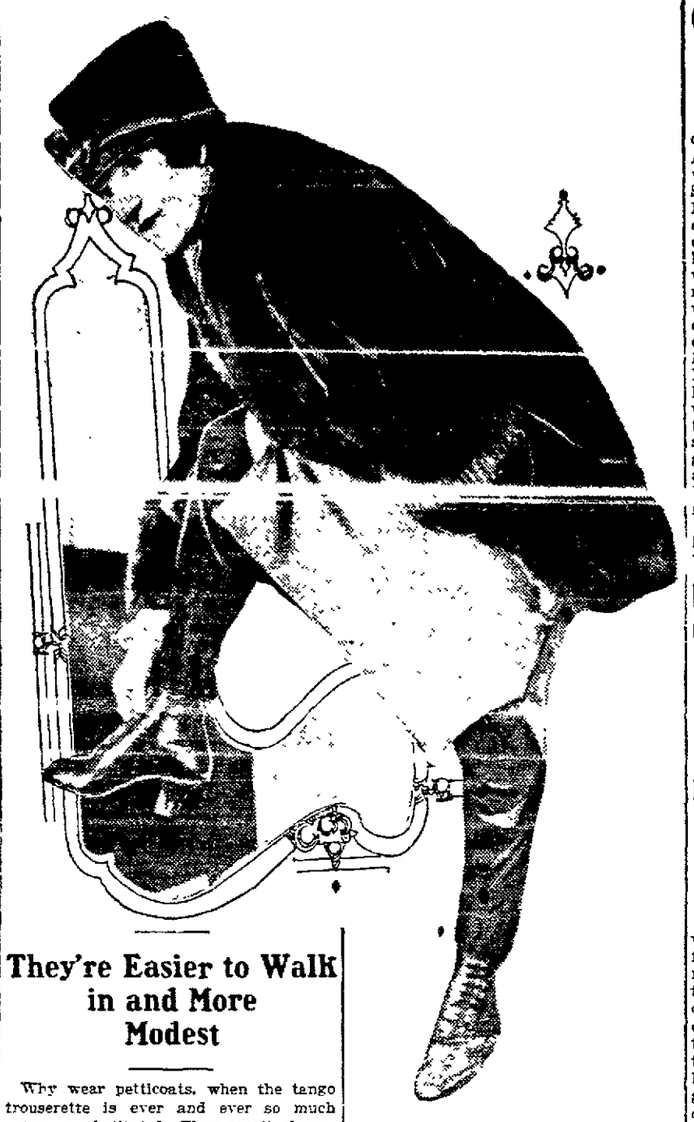

A careful examination was made by social workers of the histories of one hundred children suffering with St. Vitus dance, and Miss Blanche S. Jobs, under whose supervision the investigation was made, said today that there was no question that the moving picture show is a strong contributing factor to the widespread prevalence of the disease.

"In many of the cases investigated, it was found that the children attended moving picture shows with more or less frequency," said Miss Jobs. "Broadly speaking, I think it is safe to say that the prevalence of St. Vitus dance is mainly due to the departure from the old-fashioned manner of living. Like their elders, children of the present day are living too fast."

PROTEST AGAINST ORDERS TO MOVE ALASKA FLEET

A protest against the order of the federal government to move the Alaska salmon fleet from the estuary pending the work to be done in Brooklyn basin is being made by the Manufacturers' Committee, which will place the matter before the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday and mandate that action be taken. The manufacturers hold that the fleet spends much money in Oakland and that, if it seeks a new berth the city will lose these funds. The matter will be taken up in detail Tuesday.

Petticoat? What's the Use? Here's the New Trouserette

HERE'S THE TANGO TROUSERETTE PETTICOAT, A NEW ADJUNCT TO MODERN WOMAN'S DRESS.

They're Easier to Walk in and More Modest

Why wear petticoats, when the tango trouserette is ever and ever so much better a substitute? They aren't clumsy to walk in, like the petticoats of old, and they're far more modest. Also, they've taken Oakland by storm and the fair sex now is no longer in dread of high steps on street cars, or a famine in safety-pins.

The new trouserettes are the very latest substitutes for petticoats. They were invented through the harem skirt. The trouserette is a pair of trousers, made of flannel or alpaca and lined outside with silk, for winter, or just silk in summer. It gathers at the ankle with an elastic band, and of course they wear them in different shades, matching a dress.

The inventor of the new trouserette petticoat had the first pair made in Paris, where she got the idea from the Harem skirt. "They're not only the most practical things I've ever worn, but they're cheaper than a petticoat, don't weigh as much and are altogether ideal," she declares. She has given the patterns to several local dressmakers, and society women are already after them.

Forest Fire Put Out By Back Firing

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., March 21.—Forest fires in this county have practically been extinguished by back firing. Along Empire grade and in the Boony Doon section approximately 5000 acres were burned over, the area being principally brush.

The Big Basin fire covered an area of three square miles, consisting largely of the Coburn and Hartzman properties. The fire trails along the state park line aided substantially in winning the battle against the flames, although the trail was jumped several times.

State Forester G. H. Homans addressed the county supervisors today on the formation of a county co-operative forest protective association. The county paid $7000 last fall to fight the severe fires in this vicinity.

SCOTTISH RITE SERVICE FOR MAJOR E. A. SHERMAN

Ceremonies for Late Veteran Conducted by Grand Lodge Officers

For the first time in the history of De Molay Council, No. 2, A. and A. S. R., the full Scottish Rite services were conducted last evening in the Scottish Rite cathedral for the late Major Edwin Allen Sherman, veteran of the Mexican and civil wars and one of the oldest Masons in the grand lodge. The ceremonies last night were led by Charles Burtchaell, eminent commander of the council. He was assisted by representatives of the consistories of San Francisco and officers of the grand lodge. There was a large delegation of members of the Masonic bodies in attendance and the hall was filled with former colleagues, veterans and fraternity brothers with their families. Frank H. Norcross, supreme judge of Nevada and past grand master of Masons of that state, accompanied by his brother, Charles [illegible] related to the aged soldier.

Thomas Miller, past master of Oakland Lodge of Masons, blew bugle in accordance with the wishes of Major Sherman, who had heard Miller at a celebration and was charmed by the tones. He made a request that it should be sounded at his obsequies.

This afternoon at 2:30 the funeral of the beloved veteran was held under the auspices of Oakland Lodge of Masons in Scottish Rite cathedral, where the officers of that body officiated. Members of the various Masonic lodges of this city were in attendance.

Large floral pieces, wreaths, bouquets and sprays of choice flowers surrounded the casket. The fragrance of the roses, violets and lilies-of-the-valley scented the hall, where legions of friends paid their farewell tribute to Major Sherman, who was one of the most interesting characters in California and his fame as a soldier and a Mason has been made a part [illegible]

The burial was in the Scottish Rite plot in Mountain View cemetery.

SANTA FE DEAL WITH THE O. & A.

President of Electric Line Confirms Compact With Transcontinental Line.

with the Santa Fe to handle their freight business in Northern California," explained Arnstein. "The matter was decided some time ago but only became public with the arrival of the first car from the East over the Santa Fe lines and its being turned over to us. The Santa Fe, I believe, will soon began advertising generally, the fact that they can handle freight for the Sacramento valley. We will handle all of their freight shipments between Bay Point and Sacramento and our agreement with the Northern Electric, will allow for through shipments to Chico, Oroville, Marysville, and other points on that line."

Arnstein, when questioned in regard to the negotiations with the Western Pacific for handling passenger business between Sacramento and Oakland, admitted that negotiations were on. The Western Pacific is desirous of routing through passenger trains between the capital and San Francisco bay over the Oakland and Antioch in order to save between two and three hours time on the running schedule. At present the Western Pacific trains must run via Stockton, occupying five hours in the run from Sacramento to Oakland.

WHAT DEAL MEANS.

With a traffic agreement by which they will run their cars over the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern lines and all electric lines connected therewith and leading into the central parts of the State, the Santa Fe railroad officials yesterday completed negotiations in a deal which has caused a sensation on this side of the bay. Every town in the Sacramento valley, through the agreement, is now practically on the Santa Fe line. The agreement, perfected two days ago, according to reports of the matter, makes the Santa Fe line the base of a triangle of tracks, with Stockton, Bay Point and Sacramento as points. The Oakland-Antioch from Bay Point to Sacramento, the Central California line between Sacramento and Stockton, and the Santa Fe tracks to the East connecting with these form the figure.

The big deal places on Santa Fe lines, so far as traffic is concerned, the towns of Woodland, Marysville, Oroville, and Chico, besides scores of others of more or less importance, from the standpoint of railroad traffic. The deal puts the Santa Fe in possession of an inlet to Sacramento, long wanted by that railroad, as has been well known for years. Also it gives the road an opportunity to connect with the Northern Electric, which has also been sought before, and between the two the road will find the many points hitherto untouched by a transcontinental line.

NEGOTIATIONS LONG PENDING.

The negotiations were begun some time ago, and once it was reported that the Santa Fe would buy the Central California line and erect a handsome station at Sacramento for this property. There was another report that the Santa Fe would buy the Oakland-Antioch road, and later it was declared that the Northern Electric would also sell out to the Santa Fe.

Then suddenly the Santa Fe completed the Oakland-Antioch arrangements, and the other negotiations are now reported cancelled. Railroad men discussing the agreement are of the opinion that the Central California line may have held out for too high a price when purchase was proposed. It is declared that, if this is the case the present agreement may be a club to whip the company into line, but the fact that the Santa Fe must use both lines to reach Stockton does not bear out this contention.

BUTTER MAKERS IN SCORING CONTEST

New Entries Show That Producers Are Interested in Work of University.

DAVIS, March 21. — The California educational butter scoring contest for 1914 conducted by the University of California, opened with a number of new buttermakers taking part. There were 13 who had never sent entries before, and 12 who had been in the contests with more or less regularity in the past. Several of the regulars of last year did not send a cube for the first scoring, but expressed an intention of entering later on. The change in the plan of the work for this year was apparently met with favor on the part of many, and it especially appeals to the buttermaker who has real difficulties to contend with, on account of the elimination of prizes other than the certificates of merit.

INSPECTOR EMPLOYED.

Realizing the necessity as well as the value of a market criticism of the butter, it was arranged that a market inspector help with the scoring, and to this end T. J. Harris, official inspector of the San Francisco wholesale dairy produce exchange was secured. The other judges [illegible] and H. S. Reed of the dairy industry division. Except for those who do not wish their scores published, those whose entries scored 90 and above were as follows.

Buttermaker	Location	Score
V. de Carli	Nicasio	94½
Ed Hooper	S. Francisco	94
Jay P. Dawson	Holtville	94
Will Paulson	Greenview	93½
John Peterson	Visalia	93½
Lloyd C. Cunningham	Turlock	93
J. C. Phillips	Imperial	92½
N. C. Nelson	Willows	92½
V. E. Dignen	Glenn	92½
J. N. Jensen	Davis	92
Hans L. Beck	Fresno	92
G. G. Plunkett	Visalia	91½
W. H. Gilbert	Gustine	91½
Theron P. Fish	Hardwick	91½
John Clausen	Riverdale	91
N. Carstensen	Tulare	91
A. Quain	Stockton	91
A. L. Bailey	Stonyford	90½
L. Christianson	Cayucos	90

SEVERAL FAULTS.

The individual criticisms which were made in the entries indicate that many California buttermakers are not paying the proper amount of attention to methods of manufacture. The condition of the body of the butter, and in several instances that of the color and salt, suggests that these points are not as carefully studied as they should be. Even the packing and package was faulty in one or two cubes. It is doubtless true that the generally weak condition of the body is due to the desire of buttermakers to incorporate the maximum amount of moisture, which they find is impossible unless methods are employed which produce [illegible]

It is a question of sacrificing body for overrun. The whole matter is probably brought about by the fact that butter merchants generally are not adhering strictly to market requirements in grading butter.

It should be realized by buttermakers, however, that as the market is well stocked now there may be a stricter grading made, and if so, butter which possesses weak body would naturally not be classed as "extra." Such is true of faulty color also, and the statement was made by Mr. Harris, one of the judges, that mottled butter is graded as a "second" in an official scoring. He also stated that in examining several hundred lots of imported butter he had found one tub only which was mottled. It is said by some that California prices could be helped somewhat if an outside market were developed for locally made goods, but so long as the butter shows poor workmanship, outside competition would be strongly felt, just as now. Our home reputation must be won and held first.

The average score of the entries was kept down by the numerous cuts made for mechanical defects. Had no cuts been necessary under body, color, salt and package, one entry only would have scored less than 90, three only less than 91, and five only less than 92. The flavor of the whole lot was fairly good. Several cubes were salted too heavily, several possessed a slightly flat flavor, and one had a decided woody flavor, which seemed to be due to the lumber from which the box was made. The individual criticisms made on the entries are to be taken up with the buttermakers.

WORK FOR YEAR.

To those who are not familiar with 1914 plans, the following rules may be of interest. It has been attempted to emphasize the educational side of the work, and to eliminate the idea of the contest being conducted for the purpose of making a show or winning prizes. It is also desired that buttermakers send butter which is of the regular make.

The usual trophies are not offered this year, but instead there are certificates of merit of three grades, as follows.

Grade A Certificate: To each buttermaker who obtains an average score of 92 or above on the six entries.

Grade B Certificate: To each buttermaker who obtains an average score of 93 or above on five entries only.

Grade C Certificate: To each buttermaker who obtains an average score of 90 to 92 on the six entries.

The only expense to buttermakers taking part in the 1914 work is the payment of express on entries. All butter is sold at the highest price obtainable and participants are paid according to the net weight of their entry. Any maker may enter at any time. Blanks and further information may be obtained by writing to the division of dairy industry, university farm, Davis, California. The next entry will be called for some time within the next two months.

WANTED TO STOP REDFIELD'S ENTRY INTO LIGHTHOUSE

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—"Stop that man from going up those steps," shouted John Petersen, first assistant light-keeper at the Los Angeles harbor lighthouse, yesterday as a man with sandy sideburns started up the stairs to the light tower.

Then a bystander explained that the man in question was William C. Redfield, secretary of commerce and Petersen's highest superior officer.

Petersen was preparing to write his resignation when word was brought to him that the secretary, who was inspecting the lighthouse as a matter of official business, considered the matter a good joke.

S. P. ROAD OUTWITS UNEMPLOYED ARMY

Leaves the Stragglers of Kelley's Forces in Lurch

REDDING, Calif., March 21.—Strategy rather than force was the final choice yesterday of the Southern Pacific company in dealing with the 150 stragglers from General Kelly's army of the unemployed, who beat their way here from Sacramento last Wednesday night on the roofs and trucks of a freight train. The outcome found both sides partially victorious. Fifty of the men rode out of town free and 100 remained behind in possession of three freight cars which they had commandeered in the morning.

The skirmish grew out of an attempt by the men Thursday at midnight to ride north on a Southern Pacific freight. Railroad police put them off. So at 9 o'clock yesterday morning the men took possession unopposed of another freight. The company refused to move it and gave out word that it had sent to Dunsmuir for more special officers.

In the meantime, the city and county authorities had taken sides with the men. They held that, inasmuch as the railroad had brought the men in free of charge, it ought to carry them out on the same terms.

Late yesterday a switching engine was coupled onto the train and hauled it to a siding a mile south of the station. Then, before all the men could realize just what was intended, the three cars in which they had huddled were cut free, and a freight locomotive was rapidly hauling the main section of the train northward.

Fifty of the men scrambled onto the moving train before it gathered too much headway, and the others were left behind. They plan to jump the next freight if they can. In the mean time they are going hungry for no food has been supplied to them.

Convicted Labor Men Refused Release

KANSAS CITY, March 21. — Applications of three of the labor men convicted at Indianapolis in 1912 on charges of transporting explosives illegally, asking their release from the penitentiary at Leavenworth, were denied last night by U. S. Judge John C. Pollock.

Phillip A. Cooley of New Orleans, J. E. Munsey of Salt Lake City and Frank C. Webb of Cleveland asked release. They were not released on bond with the others of the convicted men while awaiting the final disposition of their cases in the Supreme Court. Release for the three men was asked for on the ground that they were convicted in Indiana, while none was a citizen of that state. Judge Pollock held this not sufficient grounds for taking up the matter.

Kansas Sweethearts Wed in Richmond

Harley W. Wycoff and Vera M. Richards were sweethearts back in Warnega, Kan. Wycoff came to California and located in Richmond, where he became an inspector under the board of health, and today Miss Richards arrived on an overland train to become his bride. Immediately upon the arrival of the train the couple repaired to the county clerk's office, where a license was obtained. Then they telephoned to Justice of the Peace Quinn, who tied the nuptial knot. After that they went to Richmond, where the groom has established a home. Wycoff is 25 years of age and his bride 21.

EXECUTES OFFICERS.

[illegible]—Nineteen officers were recently executed in Santiago Tlatoloico Prison by the order of President Huerta according to private advices received in Matamoros.

The reasons for the executions is said to have been the fact that officers were pupils of General Felipe Angeles, one time professor in the Mexican military academy and now in charge of General Villa's rebel artillery.

Good Use of Islands and Criminals.

The story told by Lieutenant Franklin Grimes is doubtless true. That is, to say, we do not doubt that the men who talked to Grimes did tell him what he says they told him—that their purpose was to collect a huge army of treasonable scoundrels, seize the railroads, loot the arsenals and begin a period of assassination, robbery, and outrage such as now curses unhappy Mexico. We do not doubt that there are some cruel villains among Kelly's following just as there are in the armies of Huerta and Villa.

But this is not Mexico. This is a great, powerful, contented land, in which something like 20,000,000 grown men are loyal to and proud of their country and its institutions and its flag, and in which less than a hundred thousand idle, loafing men talk treason. If ever this traitorous minority does make an attempt in the open upon the government they will be stamped flat by loyal millions.

The idea that these men could overthrow this government if they had ten times their numbers and a hundred times their courage is ridiculous. Why eleven States, full of brave men and with all the paraphernalia of orderly laws and ancient traditions, could not do that. And are we to suppose that Kelly's idle men can do what Lee and Jackson and Longstreet could not do, with all their genius, their valor and their thousands of troops who were as [illegible] the world ever saw?

There is no more danger that the comparative handful of anarchists whom our kindly laws and easy-going patience allow to plot treason and to brag of it, could overthrow this free government than there is that the man in the moon will step out of his home in the sky to stand on his head on the dome of the capitol. But that such traitors can do damage is proven by the long list of cowardly murders and destruction of property which they have piled up from the days of the Molly Maguires. And the nation ought certainly to take effective measures to put out of the country every man and woman who plots against its laws, its institutions and its flag. The man who hates a country has no right to its shelter, no right to live in it.

There is a solution of the hard problem of handling the treasonable and criminal elements which we have never seen proposed, but which we think would be effective. It is the banishment of all criminals and anarchists and traitors to the great islands which we own in the Aleutian chain.

These islands are practically uninhabited. But before the white man corrupted the simple natives and caused them to perish through vile diseases and viler liquors, thousands of them lived in considerable comfort upon these spots in the sea. And there is no reason why white men, supplied with fishing implements and the tools to cultivate the soil and seeds to plant and some livestock could not earn their living by hard work. And if criminals were placed on the islands, with all these provisions for sustaining life and then left to work or starve, they would work.

By separating the sexes, on different islands, the generation of criminals would die out in the course of nature, and we should not have a new breed succeeding the old. And this, carried out for a few generations, would probably reduce the criminal breed to a negligible fraction in a century—probably in half a century.

Unlike penitentiaries and jails, the islands would require no guards, no mess-halls, no costly equipment of any kind. A few revenue cutters patrolling the seas and watching the harbors would keep all the prisoners from escape.

The prisoners themselves would be better off, compelled to work or starve, but with work in the open air and with no cell doors to clang behind them.

The nation would be better off, because it would have no penitentiaries to maintain, and no marching gangs disturbing the peace of the industrious and law-abiding.

We make this suggestion in good faith, and feel persuaded that it is a more humane, a more effective and in every way better solution of the problem of taking care of determined criminals than the present system of locks and bars or the foolish proposals of sentimentalists to cure hereditary criminal instincts with tracts on brotherhood or by varying the seasoning of their soups and stews.

Bryan the Man in Wilson's Shadow.

Question is whether President Woodrow Wilson is directly to blame for some of the weaknesses, if not fatal faults, of his administration. It must be admitted that the President has gained the respect of his fellow countrymen for his fine personal qualifications, his exhaustive education, academic though it be, and his simple and admirable home life. True, President Wilson is, not so far as anyone, no matter what his politics, can discern, lacking in mental force, but he lacks the vigorous obstinacy of Taft and the drastic impulses of Roosevelt. He is a man whom political study and experience may have a chance to evolute beyond the point of the commonplace.

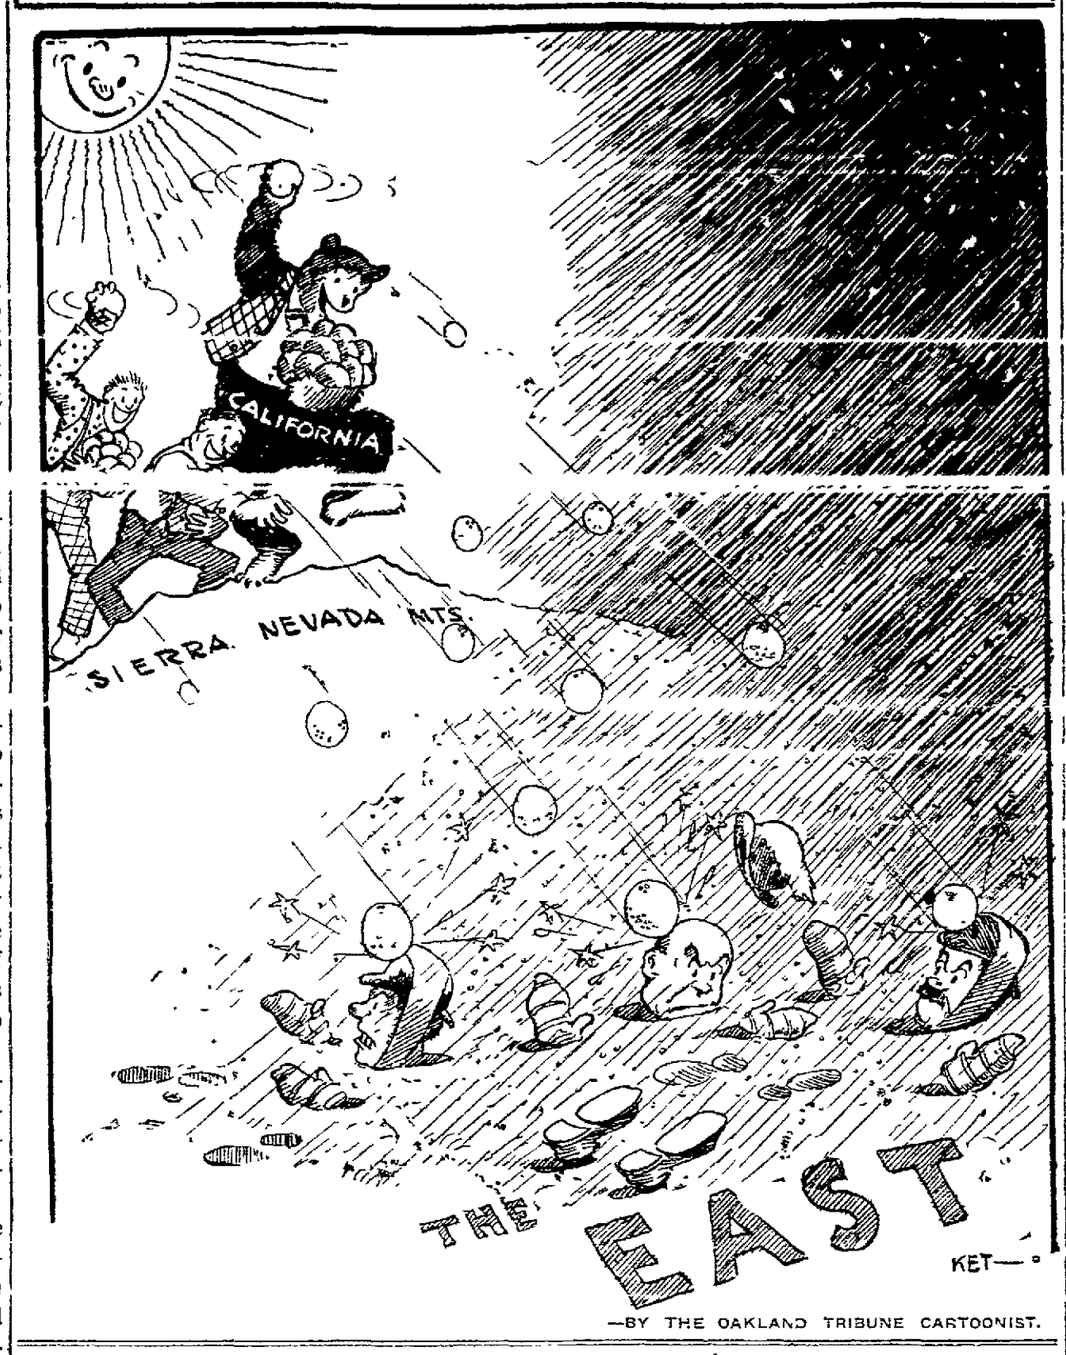

In the study of Wilson, one naturally looks for the man in the shadow. It would be better for Wilson were he a man without a shadow. In the midst of all of his determination, and his undershot jaw gives evidence of this, he cannot overcome his worship at the shrine of William Jennings Bryan. Everybody knows that Bryan has always had a shrine, but for some time past he has had few worshipers at it except himself. The Secretary of State having come out of the many campaigns a failure, has been overcome with the great luck that a recent political accident made for him. Bryan is today the man in Wilson's shadow and Wilson seems to be afraid of his shadow.

In the affairs of state there are few, even among Mr. Wilson's most ardent (outside of political) supporters, who do not in the bottom of their heart believe that the United States is today in the midst of the greatest comedy of political and diplomatic errors it has ever committed. To be sure we are now so commercially strong, and well poised domestically, that troubles in our national family do not affect us as they did twenty years ago. But we all of us have a little national pride left and we would like to preserve it.

Our "waiting and watching" policy has brought us into [illegible] country has been commonerized and bryanized and both with a small "c" and "b."

Pity it is that Wilson cannot try to be President himself. He is a good man, and as we have said, has a good chin. He ought to put-chin Bryan. The Secretary of State makes too much noise in lectures and not enough concerning public affairs in which the entire nation is vitally interested in.

THREE POLICEMEN HOLD CROWD AT BAY

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Three policemen, with drawn revolvers, held a crowd of 900 at bay last night in Grant avenue while they arrested Pearl Vogel on a warrant issued in Sacramento. The Vogel woman was speaking in the street when Detective Harry Cook and Patrolmen [illegible] forced their way through the throng. They arrested the woman and fought their way back to the curb with drawn revolvers, making for the house of Truck No. 1, in O'Farrell street. Once there the big brass doors were slammed in the faces of the mob following and a call sent to the Central station for a patrol wagon and reinforcements

VANCOUVER HAS $200,000 FIRE.

VANCOUVER, B. C. March 21.—Fire last night destroyed the Mainland Transfer Company's offices and several wholesale firms' premises, the damage amounting to $200,000, mostly covered by insurance. While fighting the flames Neil McDonald, a fireman, overcome by the heat, fell from a ladder sixty feet to the pavement. He escaped with a broken nose and slight internal injuries

Mrs. Goodsense—"Nellie's just been telling me of some lectures on housekeeping she's gone to. They tell her how to make all kinds of fancy desserts and salads that are no use to her at all, but they don't teach her a sensible thing like using Fels-Naptha Soap or anything of that sort. A waste of time, I call it."

Anty Drudge—"Well, you can teach her about Fels-Naptha Soap at home. She can see how fine it does your work for you and learning about the other won't hurt her."

Fels-Naptha Soap in cool or lukewarm water will get your clothes on the line in half the time with less than half the trouble if you will use it next washday, and your clothes will not have to be hard-rubbed nor boiled, either.

MRS. SCOTT PROFESSIONAL
SHE QUITS LIFE IN SOCIETY

MRS. A. W. SCOTT.

Mrs. A. W. Scott Jr., society woman and amateur actress, whose productions of "Magda" and "Mary Magdalen" at the Macdonough recently created a furor, has become a professional. Under the name of Ruth Blackburn she is appearing in Shakespearean roles with Robert Mantell, and is declared to have made a decided hit in St. Louis. Mrs. Scott was a social leader of both sides of the bay and the wife of a well-known merchant, who is also a director of the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Selecting the name of her mother's family as her "stage name," the talented woman plans an extensive [illegible] has long been noted as one of the most talented amateurs in America and has often longed for a professional career.

Mrs. Scott had been promised secrecy as to her real name when she joined the Mantell forces, but when a reporter appeared to ask Mantell if she had eloped with him in the heat of his indignation Mantell told her identity. Mrs. Mantell, who was present, also told of the society woman's joining the company.

Mrs. Scott declares that she is tired of society life, longs for the stage and so, when offered a part by Mantell, who is a lifelong friend of her husband, she accepted. She is on an extensive tour with the Mantell players.

SCOTT MANTELL'S FRIEND.

Asked whether Mrs. Scott joined the company secretly, Mantell answered that her husband had full knowledge of her step.

"Mr. Scott is a dear friend of mine," said Mantell, "and his wife is well taken care of in my company. Last Monday her husband sent her a big bouquet and a telegram of congratulation.

"Mrs. Scott, who has her 16-year-old daughter with her, tired of society life in San Francisco. She has been interested and active in theatrical work for many years, having been a member of a stock company and having traveled extensively in Europe. She has her maid from San Francisco with her. Ten or eleven years ago she was with Morrison, who considered her a highly gifted woman."

Effort to see Mrs. Scott in St. Louis was unavailing. When asked for an interview at the Jefferson Hotel, where she is occupying rooms 808 and 811 with her daughter, she excused herself. At the theater she referred questioners to the stage manager of Mantell's company.

"Miss Blackburn is just starting with our company," he said. "She does not want notoriety."

In her appearance as leading woman for Mantell, playing the parts which were formerly played by the actor's deceased wife, Marie Booth Russell, Mrs. Scott is gratifying an ambition which she had cherished for several years, and with hope of which she has spent many leisure months studying for the parts.

MANAGERS SOUGHT HER.

Managers from all over the country made offers to Mrs. Scott, she admits, and the moving picture concerns of the Pacific coast bid for her services as a heroine of the "movies."

During the holidays Mrs. Scott accompanied her husband to Los Angeles, where Mantell was playing. At that time Thais Lawton was appearing in the heavy roles which Mrs. Scott is now essaying. Repeated conferences with Mantell and his managers resulted in the engagement of Mrs. Scott to finish out the season with the company.

Two weeks ago she joined the company in St. Paul, but it was not until last week that she made her appearance upon the stage. Then the players were in Indianapolis and Mrs. Scott was given her tryout before audiences in that city. Her work there settled the question about her ability to fill the place which Miss Lawton left vacant when the company was in the northwest, and on Monday evening of this week she appeared for the first time as a recognized member of the Mantell Shakespearean troupe.

CALIFORNIA BOY NOW HEAD OF CORPORATION

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 21.—From a Pasadena schoolboy, earning his way to a technical electrical engineering course by picking fruit in his father's orchard, to a professor in the University of California and then through a successful career of an engineer in various Western projects to president of the North American Company, an $80,000,000 corporation, and all this before he has reached the age of 35 years, is the career of James D. Mortimer, now of Milwaukee.

Mortimer, as vice-president of the company and head of the Milwaukee Traction and Lighting System, has been advanced to president of the company, which controls the trolley system of St. Louis and has heavy holdings in power plants in other cities, including the great Keokuk dam across the Mississippi river.

His career in the California school was unique. He was too young to be accepted as a student—officially—so he studied at home, and when he did enter the university it was as a junior. He was graduated in the class of 1900 as the medalist of his class.

He worked rapidly east from Tacoma, first taking the Telluride Power Company of Colorado and Utah, and then coming to the North American Company.

BOY DASHED TO DEATH FROM CLIFF

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Howard Bredhoff, the 13-year-old son of Charles M. Bredhoff of 17 West Clay Park, was killed almost instantly late yesterday afternoon when he fell 15 feet from the cliff at Land's End to the jagged rocks below. His body was recovered by the crew of the Golden Gate life saving station after a struggle against the tide.

[illegible] ARRIVALS.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—J. T. Hendricks of St. Louis, who succeeds H. M. Adams as general traffic manager of the Western Pacific railroad, arrived in San Francisco yesterday and is staying at the Palace Hotel. Coming with him from St. Louis were a number of Gould line traffic officials including F. A. Wadleigh, J. N. Githens, W. P. Hughes, S. M. Stevenson and John M. Johnson.

COTTON ARMOR PLATES SUGGESTED TO DANIELS

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Secretary Daniels today received a suggestion which may help to solve the problem of the Navy Department to obtain armor plate at less cost than at present. Armor plates can be made from cotton which would be "superior in efficiency to any metal armor plate that can be devised by any process," in the opinion of Colonel Marcellus E. Thornton of Hickory, N. C., who in a letter tells the secretary of his discovery. None of the details of the plan are revealed in the letter, however.

JOINT MANEUVERS AGAINST SAN FRANCISCO

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Plans of the War Department for joint army-militia maneuvers in the Western Department during the coming summer, the dates to be decided later, were announced yesterday.

The joint maneuvers will consist of a campaign in the vicinity of San Francisco, to be participated in by the army and militia stationed in California and various state camps.

HOLDS COURT SESSION IN AUTO ON HIGHWAY

SANTA ROSA, March 21.—A court session was held yesterday in an automobile by Judge Campbell of Seneca on the county road near this city which resulted in A. N. Cadeglia of San Francisco being fined $16 for the illegal shooting of meadow larks. The judge was on his way to Santa Rosa with two deputy fish and game commissioners when they came upon Cadeglia shooting the birds. Court then was hastily convened in the tonneau and sentence imposed.

Special "Health Warning" for March.

STATE'S CROESUS PAYS INCOME TAX

Pasadena Man Assessed $60,000 on Money He Gets Yearly.

LOS ANGELES, March 21. — The mystery of California's Croesus, one of the ten richest men in the world, according to reports on the income tax, was solved yesterday. He is L. V. Harkness, multi-millionaire society man in Pasadena. Harkness paid an income tax of more than $60,000, and is said to be the largest individual tax payer west of Chicago. His entire fortune is estimated at more than $30,000,000, and his income for 1913 is said to have reached $1,500,000.

WOODLAND, March 21. — One of the most important real estate deals made here in some time was the purchase yesterday of the Beamer property, 127 acres, bounded on the east by the Southern Pacific Railroad track and on the west by College street. An Oakland realty firm was the purchaser. More than $75,000 was the purchase price.

PASADENA, March 21. — J. Ogden Armour, head of the Armour Packing company, arrived at the Huntington Hotel yesterday.

OROVILLE, March 21. — The Great Western Power Company has filed a petition with the State Board of Equalization to have 26,586 acres of its land in Plumas county classed as "operative" property, according to a notice received by the Assessor's office.

LOS ANGELES, March 21. — Smoke [illegible] as a result of the determination of the Board of City Commissioners to pass an ordinance banishing the cigar, the pipe and the cigarette from street cars.

OROVILLE, March 21. — A collection of birds and insects having their habitat in Plumas county will be one of the features of Plumas county's exhibits at the 1915 exposition.

STOCKTON, March 21 — John Carter, aged 29, a resident of Lodi, occupies a cell in the County Jail charged with a statutory offense against a thirteen-year-old Lodi girl.

SAN JOSE, March 21. — Plans for improving the 120-foot boulevard between this city and Santa Clara, known as the Alameda and historic as part of El Camino Real, were announced yesterday.

CHICO, March 21. — Hurled 100 feet when his automobile was struck at a crossing near here by a speeding Southern Pacific motor and pinned beneath the wreckage of his car, Matthew B. Fuller, 50 years old, a prominent rancher, miraculously escaped death yesterday afternoon and now lies in a hospital, seriously but not dangerously injured.

STOCKTON, March 21. — Long-standing litigation in the partition suit of Thomas Bishop against Emelie Cohen, involving island land valued at $200,000, probably came to an end yesterday when Judge Frank H. Smith rendered a decision disposing of the property. Under the decision Bishop gets two-thirds and Cohen one-third. The land, consisting of 3900 acres, was farmed by the partners for many years and netted each of them a fortune.

SAN JOSE, March 21. — Arrangements have been completed by the little village of Saratoga, situated on the western rim of the Santa Clara valley, for the entertainment of 25,000 people when the fifteenth annual blossom festival will be celebrated on foothills overlooking a landscape made snowy white by 7,000,000 blooming fruit trees.

ANTIOCH, March 21. — The mystery surrounding the disappearance last Sunday evening of Robert Lauritzen, an employe of the Lauritzen Transportation Company, was solved with the finding of his body floating in the canal opposite the concern's landing here.

MOTORMAN FOILS 2 MASKED MEN

Disregards Bandits' Orders and Sends Train Speeding Away.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 21. — An attempt by two masked and armed men to hold up a Tacoma-bound interurban train at South Side station, near the scene of the interurban robbery the night of February 21 when passengers lost $350, was foiled last night by W. J. Fox, the motorman, who disregarded the highwaymen's orders to hold up his hands and sent the train away at full speed before the men could board it. One passenger who alighted at the station was afterwards robbed of $2.15 by the disappointed highwaymen.

ROBBER LOSES NERVE.

MACON, Ga., March 21. — A train conductor's coolness last night foiled a masked bandit who attempted to hold up and rob passengers on a Southern Railway train known as the Ohio-Florida special, near Floville, Ga.

The robber stepped into a car with drawn revolver and ordered passengers to throw up their hands. The conductor, who was one of those covered, pulled the bell cord. The robber's courage failed and he backed off the train when it had stopped.

AUDIENCE WITH POPE.

ROME, March 21.—The Right Rev. John J. Nilan, bishop of Hartford, was received in private audience yesterday by the Pope. About 200 American pilgrims also were presented by Monsignor Charles A. O'Hern, vice-rector of the American college in Rome.

LARGE SUM FOR PURCHASE OF FERRY

Mare Island Employes Raise $12,000 to Take Over Old Company.

VALLEJO, March 21.—That the $12,000 has already been pledged for the purchase of the Vallejo Ferry Company was stated at the meeting of Mare Island employes, when a decision was reached to buy out the corporation. Of this amount $5000 is immediately available.

As it will be necessary to have a new organization formed and incorporated under the laws of the state, Attorney Morrissey was delegated to prepare for the new association and to draw up by-laws which will govern the co-operative ferry.

A great crowd filled the Baptist gymnasium when the meeting to consider the purchase was considered.

Forbes H. Brown called the meeting to order and briefly presented the situation to his hearers. He declared that the navy department had intimated that the employes should acquire the ferry system, and if they did not do so they might later be forced to give up their boats and ride with the ferry company. It was also desirable that the yard men take over the ferry system so that the contract with the United States government could be resumed as soon as possible, thus ending the unsatisfactory condition now existing. Letters from Congressmen Curry and Raker relating to the ferry situation were read.

The next speaker was Grant McLaughlin, a member of the board of directors of the Mare Island Employes' Association. He explained in detail the proposed transaction and gave a resume of the inspection of the ferry company's property. The course being pursued in the sale of stock was explained and other points of interest touched on.

Attorney W. H. Morrissey spoke at length concerning the ferry matter and answered scores of questions propounded as to the legality of the proposition, protection of the money invested in stock, etc. He called attention to the coming visit of Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt and impressed upon his hearers that it is desirable to have the ferry matter straightened out before he arrival of the navy department official.

At this point Richard Koppen arose and moved that the Vallejo Ferry Company be purchased by the employes of the Mare Island navy yard as a whole, to be run and operated on the co-operative plan. The motion was seconded by scores of men [illegible] and was unanimously adopted.

MARE ISLAND NOTES

MARE ISLAND, March 21.—It was learned at the Island today that the cruiser Chattanooga, now undergoing repairs at Bremerton, will arrive here on or about April 20 and after taking on some ammunition and stores she will depart for Mexican waters in company with her sister ship, the Cleveland, which vessel has been acting as receiving ship here for the past year.

On their arrival at Guaymas the New Orleans will be detached from the Pacific patrol fleet and will probably go north to Bremerton for some needed repairs.

After the North American Dredging Company's channel deepener passes the freight shed Commandant F. M. Bennett, U. S. N., of Mare Island will make preparations to have the dredger pump some of the mud removed from the turning basin onto the land now used for the yard dumps. This land is at the extreme north end of Mare Island.

The Yerba Buena tug Castro had a successful trial spin this morning and the craft left during the day for the lower bay. It is expected that the Vigilant will soon come here for repairs now that the Castro can resume her regular run between San Francisco and Yerba Buena.

The cruiser Pittsburgh, which vessel is to act as temporary receiving ship in San Francisco bay next month, until the St. Louis can come down from Bremerton, sent a radiogram to Commandant F. M. Bennett, U. S. N., of Mare Island today to the effect that she will not start her division target practice at San Diego until the 26th or 27th inst. This means that the Pittsburgh will not arrive in the lower bay to relieve the Intrepid until the 5th of April at the very earliest. As soon as the Intrepid is relieved at the Yerba Buena guardo she will come here to take the place of the Cleveland as a receiving ship.

Orders were issued at the yard today to undock the cruiser Maryland the latter part of the month. Her new 8-inch guns will be installed by Tuesday night, according to the yard officers. Before the Maryland leaves the yard dock her port crane, which weighs in the neighborhood of 10 tons, will be lifted from the week of the vessel for examination.

LOSES $100,000 SUIT AGAINST S. P. RAILROAD

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—Joyce Huffman, 20 years old, sole survivor of an accident in which her father, Carl Huffman, his mother, three brothers and sisters and an aunt were killed, has lost her suit against the Southern Pacific railroad company for $100,000 damages.

The accident occurred July 11 last year. The Huffman family was enjoying an outing in an automobile near San Gabriel, when their machine was run down by a Southern Pacific [illegible] which was backing toward Los Angeles. Joyce alone escaped death, and through her guardian, P. C. Schutt, sued the railroad for $100,000 for the loss of her parents. The suit came to trial yesterday before a jury in Judge Wood's department of the Superior Court. After brief deliberation the jury returned a verdict for the corporation, which had contended it was not to blame for the accident.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY

If Little Stomach Is Sour, Liver Torpid and Bowels Clogged.

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once—a teaspoonful today often saves a sick child tomorrow.

If your little one is out of sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomachache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs;" then [illegible] made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled!

JUDGE BUCK MOVES IN COBURN ESTATE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Attorneys for and against Loren Coburn, who won his restoration to competency in Judge Cabaniss' court a week ago, were astounded to learn yesterday that Judge George H. Buck of the Superior Court of San Mateo county, had made on his own motion an order directing M. J. Hynes to render an accounting of his guardianship of the Coburn estate.

Attorney A. J. Treat of Coburn's counsel, was the first to hear of the order. He hastened to assure Hynes' attorney, Eustace Cullinan, that he and his associates had not asked for an accounting and were not disposed to press the guardian unduly for the final statement of his stewardship of the aged pioneer's millions

INSANE SENTRY SHOOTS COMRADE WHILE ON DUTY

FAIRBANKS Alaska, March 21.—While on sentry duty at Fort Gibbon, 275 miles down the river from here, Private Loman, Company A, Thirtieth United States Infantry, went violently insane Wednesday night and shot Private Steelman with an army rifle. The Meddler

IF any one had any doubts of the fact that Oakland is a big city had arrived, those doubts would have been fully dissipated on Thursday evening at the crowded Mi Careme dansant at the Hotel Oakland. Each dance seems still more popular than the preceding ones. We had the Brazilian ball, colorful enough to bring joy to every one's heart, and the historic ball, with its historical hobgoblins, was a joy to behold. Dance after dance looms up at the Oakland, and always there are crowds gayly tangoing to the foreign music and the hotel life begins to loom large on our social horizon. There are other signs of success in the air. Manager Reiter no longer looks worried, and a rumor spreads through the city, the most welcome we have had in many a day, that "The hotel is now paying."

"Nothing succeeds like success," and while the laurel crown will probably go to Manager Reiter, every prominent person in town will be boasting of how he put his shoulder to the wheel to help along the good cause. In the days to come many big hotels will break Oakland's sky line, but none of them will go to the heart of the people as their Hotel Oakland. With the Mi-Careme dance comes the news of the big caravansary's success, and it marks an epoch in the city's history.

Mid Lent is even more important than the Mardi Gras, the old-time "goose Tuesday" of the Latin countries. At the Mardi Gras entertainment every one is more or less tired from the strain of a busy season, but at Mi-Careme there has been a rest of three weeks and people are ready to plunge once more into the gayeties of social life. And truly we Americans have learned to play, and it will not be very long until we are showing Latin Europe how to play. Already New Orleans and St. Louis have achieved wonderful things, and California cities ought to be next in line. It is simply amazing what we have been able to do here in our own city, and our Mi-Careme ball challenges comparison with anything in the state. It was wonderfully colorful, and the costumes were in many cases both original and picturesque.

The women who wore fancy dress costumes were most attractive. Among those who carried off honors was Mrs. Charles Gilman, who was a most fascinating Turkish princess in red satin—the wide flowing trousers embroidered in gold with gold anklets, and a jeweled crown.

Mrs. Walton was a Chinese princess, and Mrs. Percy J. Waker was a radiant Carmen, and there were gypsies and Chinese ladies and flower girls.

And those who did not essay fancy dress wore the most elaborate costumes seen here this season, gowns of rare beauty and suggestive of the best Paris and Vienna effects. Noticeable among the very beautiful gowns were those of Mrs. Stuart Hawley, Mrs. Glass, Mrs. Harold Havens, Miss Allene Edoff, Miss Helen Bowie, Mrs. Warren Palmer, Mrs. Walter Frick, Mrs. William Cavalier, Mrs. William Henshaw and Miss Florence Henshaw.

Among the many prominent people noticed at the Mi-Careme dansant were:

COSTUMES FEATURE PARIS MI-CAREME.

Paris had also its Mi-Careme and from that historical city came the [illegible].

Every costume maker in the city is working overtime to make the coming ball a gala occasion. Red and yellow are the colors designated, [illegible] according to the costumers, to make it an animated and artistic affair. Art and medical students have announced their intention of being present en force, disguised as tomatoes and lemons. The Countess de Noailles, the poetess, will go as a bunch of daffodils, a young princess as a ladybird, and a wealthy young American, who is married to a French count, will be a red gooseberry.

"Members of the Twenty Club, famous for their masked balls, have also drawn inspiration for the vegetable kingdom, and will go to the opera as carrots, pumpkins, scarlet runners, and cherries. A woman [illegible] has chosen a wild strawberry as the model for her disguise. The wife of a local surgeon will resemble a pimento plant, wearing red tights and a yellow wig. Several English dancing girls now appearing in Paris will also attend the ball, which is expected to muster about 4000 persons."

FUTURE LOOKS ROSY FOR NEW GOLF CLUB.

Ever since the first intimations reached the smart sets on either side of the bay of the formation of a new golf club much interest has been expressed in its progress. And the club has progressed in a manner most truly phenomenal—good fortune seeming to have attended every one of its ventures. In the first place the personnel of the men at the head of the club places it absolutely in the first rank as far as social importance is concerned. They are men of social rank, coming from families identified with the history of the state—of the very best families. They are also men who are doing big things in the world of work, directing large business affairs in the state. It might be mentioned in passing that some of the most active members are [illegible] Clay, Frederick Sherman, Wigginton Creed, Louis Titus—all young men who have definitely arrived in a business way, with a career full of promise still before them.

The new club has also older members, such as William G. Henshaw and some our best-known golf players.

From the very start there has been no trouble regarding the membership of the club. The founders are wise in their day and generation and will only elect to membership people who are extremely eligible—so there may be no trouble later on. The club is now in a position where it can be easily financed, and it can extend its membership selections over a large period of time, thus being careful in selecting only those who will be creditable members.

The club has also been most fortunate in its choice of golf links, and probably there will be found no finer links in the world than in the magnificent foothills of the Elmhurst region.

The club has also been fortunate in its choice of a name, for Sequoyah is most appropriate. The club adopted the original spelling of this fine old California name, and like the tree of the same name bids fair to flourish down the aisles of time.

It is said that the managers of the club expect to have the club building and the golf course completed, so that they may be able to play on the links by the middle of this year.

One hears that a great many of the members of the Sequoyah Club went down to Del Monte last Thursday, and will remain there until tomorrow morning, and they are planning to have a regular Sequoyah tournament on the Del Monte links, during the three days of their stay there. Many of the members have motored down and they will return Sunday afternoon or Monday morning. No club in California has a better chance of standing ideally for the great national game of golf, and for the outdoor sport which may well be one of California's great charms.

EARLY EVENING FOR THEATER, THEN DINNER.

Californians love to keep up with the new innovations, and here is one from London concerning a change in the dinner and theater hours. It is being made at the instance of Gaston Meyer, the theatrical manager. He is planning a new matinee scheme.

MISS CORONA WILLIAMS, THE DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. HARRY ALSTON WILLIAMS OF BERKELEY, WHO IS A LEADER IN THE GAIETIES OF THAT PLACE.

He thinks there are a good many Londoners who would like to go to the theater at 5 in the afternoon and leave at 8, in comfortable time to go home and have dinner. Ordinary matinees, he believes, are impossible to many people, especially men, while a great many others say that evening performances start too early, not allowing business men to dine comfortably and leisurely, and be at the theater by 8:30.

At a 5 o'clock performance the audience will not be expected to wear evening dress.

[illegible] DAY AT U. OF C. ROLLS AROUND AGAIN.

One of the most important social events of each spring, which is in reality our late season, is the Charter Day reception at Berkeley. Charter Day is almost as important as Commencement. For the latter many of the old graduates return, but the days are given over mostly to the graduates of the year and their friends. But Charter Day represents the birthday of the University, and one finds gathered at Berkeley the most prominent men of the state. The social sets from all over the state find a representation there. President Wheeler has always been very fortunate in bringing to Berkeley any distinguished speakers. Among them has been Dr. Henry Van Dyke. This year the address of the day will be given by Secretary of Commerce Redfield of President Wilson's Cabinet, and every one is anxious to hear the message he is bringing from Washington.

The academic procession at Berkeley is well worth seeing. All the professors are in their academic robes with mortar-board caps, and some of the robes, marking degrees from foreign universities, are exceedingly interesting and picturesque. That of President Wheeler is most effective. The long procession winds its way up the hill slopes, which are lovely now with California poppies and wild flowers, and later the Greek Theater presents a most colorful picture. All the fraternities and sororities keep open house, with luncheons for friends and relatives. There are many class reunions, and President and Mrs. Wheeler give an elaborate luncheon at their home in honor of the speaker of the day.

Later there is the big reception in Hearst Hall. The guests are received on the upper floor, where an orchestra plays delightful music, and elaborate refreshments are served on the lower floor. Everything is very formal, and everybody dignified—very much as one would find it at Yale or Harvard or in the older universities of Europe. A detachment of senior men meet the guests, and escort them to the receiving party announcing their names. Mrs. Wheeler is usually assisted by Mrs. Hearst, and by some of the leading faculty women of Berkeley.

One meets at the reception men who would never think of going to an afternoon reception at any other time—one meets the older California graduates, who have made good in the many professions, and in the business walks of life.

LUNCHEONS MARK SPRING DAYS.

Lenten luncheons are of exceptional interest this season, and among the most important have been those given by Mrs. Barriolhet, Mrs. Horry Meek, Mrs. P. E. Bowles, Miss Annie Brown, and the Misses Bassett. Mrs. Barriolhet who looks exactly like a French painting of the days of Marie Antoinette, is a wonderfully fascinating hostess. She is besides one of the best known women in California. The beautiful home which the Henry Barriohlets established in San Mateo was known all along the coast, and Mrs. Barriolhet was the first to show women what work might mean to them. She personally superintended the growing of wonderful violets, and sent them every day to the San Francisco markets. This was in the old days before women had found a rightful place in the world's economic work.

Mrs. Barriolhet is very fond of young girls, and she has always done a great deal to make them happy. Her luncheon on Tuesday at the Hotel Oakland was for attractive Miss Alice Palmer, the lovely and accomplished young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Palmer. As the day was in honor of good St. Patrick, the decorations were of course in green, the far-famed color of the emerald isle.

Among Mrs. Barriolhet's guests were her sister, Mrs George De Golia, Mrs. Warren Palmer, Miss Alice Palmer, Miss Barbara Promwell, Miss Cleo Posey, Miss Doris Bornemann, Miss Allene Edoff, Mrs. Frank J. [illegible] ward, Miss Ruth Sharon, Miss Anne Spring.

Mrs. P. E. Bowles entertained at an elaborate luncheon at her home, "The Pines," this week. These are just the days for out of town luncheons, and "The Pines" offered an unusually attractive environment. Mrs. Bowles' guests were chosen mostly from her out of town friends.

The Misses Margaret and Helen Bassett are counted among the most beautiful girls on this side of the bay. They are the daughters of Mrs. Laura Bassett, and the nieces of the Misses Louise and Emma Mahony. They entertained at luncheon in their home on Castro street this week, making their guest of honor Mrs. George Daniels, who was formerly Miss Helen High.

MISS SLOPER GIVES LUNCHEON.

Miss Florence Sloper gave an elaborate luncheon today at the Palace Hotel, entertaining twenty young girls in honor of Miss Adele Scott. Later the young people attended the dansant of the afternoon at the Pal[illegible] off honors from even the professionals. The new styles are immensely becoming to Miss Adele Scott, and she is known as one of the most fascinating debutantes of the year.

MRS. HORRY MEEK ENTERTAINS FRIENDS.

Every spring Mrs. Horry Meek entertains her friends at "The Orchards," her country place near Hayward. It is altogether lovely in the early spring time with the wonderful orchards all in bloom, and a day there is most inspiring—for it is in the country that one really finds the true "spirit of spring."

Mrs. Meek gave her luncheon this week in compliment to Mrs. A. Schilling, and she entertained mostly the members of the Cosmos Club. She was assisted in receiving her guests by her daughters, Mrs. William Volkmann and Mrs. Stuart Hawley.

After luncheon there were bridge games, for which dainty prizes were chosen, and the late evening, the guests of the day motored out to Mrs. Meek's, and the bridge luncheon for Mrs. Schilling was in every way a delightful affair.

PICTURES IN THE MEDDLER.

Mrs. Stuart Haldorn whose picture is in the Meddler today is a bride of a fortnight ago, and was Miss Enid Gregg of San Francisco. Miss Caryl George is a member of several of the exclusive dancing clubs of this city.

Miss Corona Williams is a leader in the gaieties of the younger set of Berkeley where with her sister Miss Florence Williams, she frequently entertains.

Mrs. John London Meares is a frequent visitor in Berkeley. She is a cousin of Miss Marie Whiting, and before her marriage a few weeks ago was Miss Wapi Elizabeth Holt.

MRS. ASTOR WILL ENTERTAIN MODISTES.

All the foreign social world and that of New York is talking of the great ball to be given by Mrs. Waldorf Astor this evening in London. We are told:

"Mrs. Astor is going to give a big ball on Saturday at her home in St. James Square for girls employed in the dressmaking establishment she patronizes. Seventy-five girls have been asked, and each is invited and expected to bring along her 'young man.'

"The affair will be conducted as if it were a regular fashionable society function. Each dressmaker and her beau will be solemnly announced by an imposing butler as they are ushered into the reception room, and will have the whole household staff of liveried and powdered flunkies at their beck and call.

"Mrs. Astor will receive them personally, and several of her society friends will be in the reception line."

WANDERLUST IS CLAIMING YEARLY VICTIMS.

The wander spirit is beckoning, and already well known people are following where she leads.

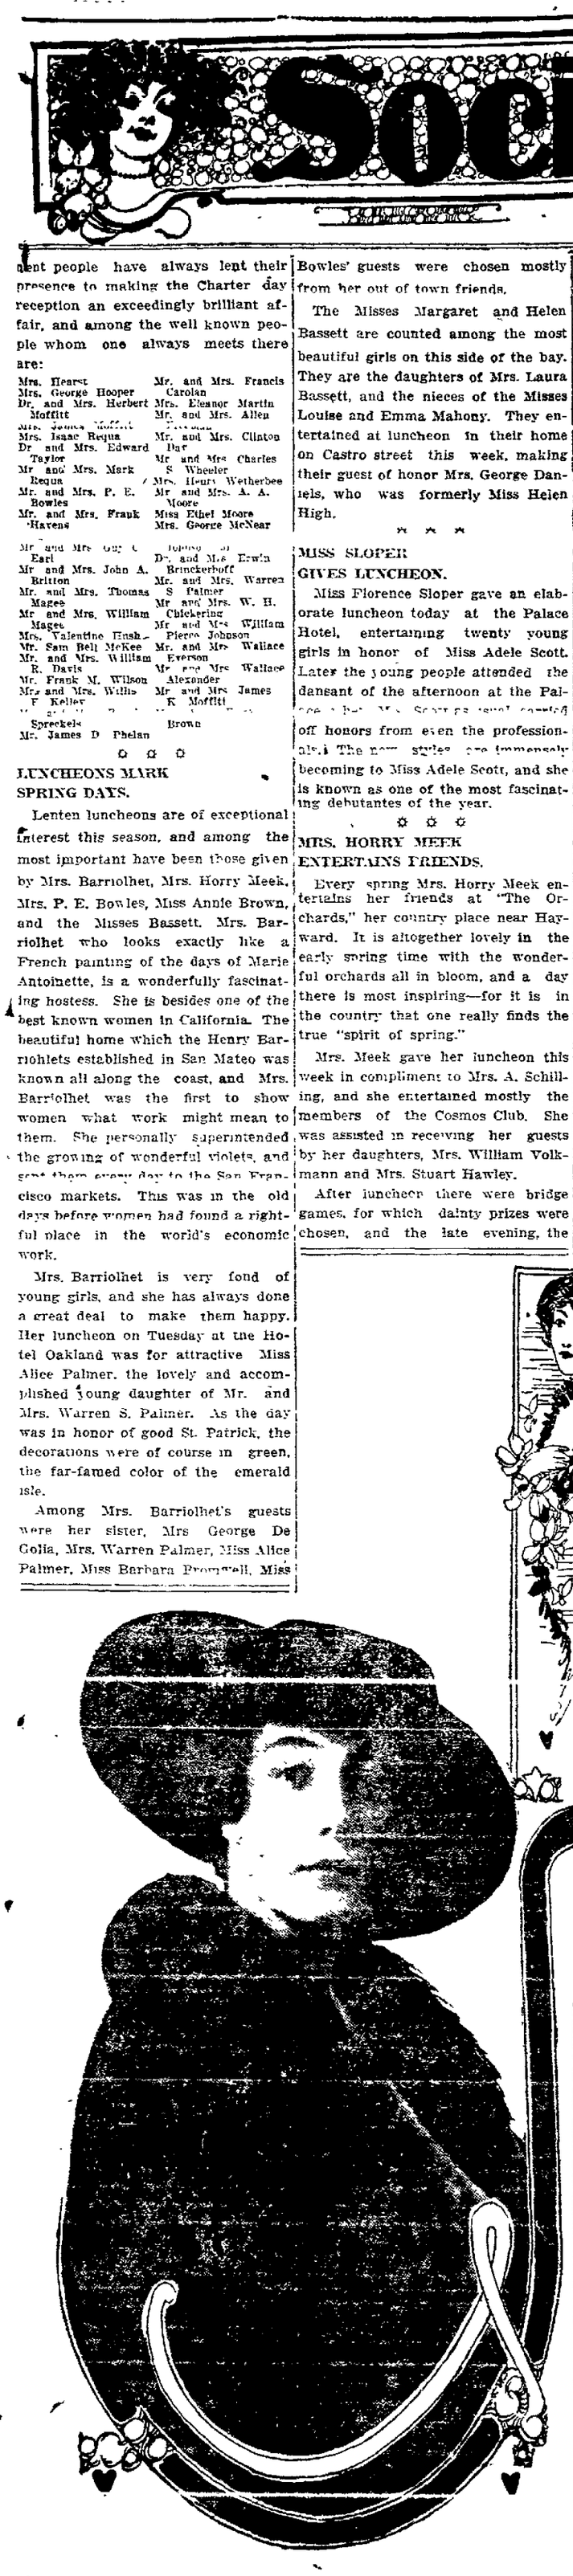

Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, (Hattie Crocker), and her daughters are sailing this week for Europe and will go directly to Rome, where they expect to be during the Easter holidays.

Mrs. Whitelaw Reid is leaving next week for California, and she will spend the next two months in her San Mateo home.

The Willis F. Kelleys are planning to close their Piedmont home this summer, and go abroad. They have planned a vacation far afield, and they expect to wander through many lands. Mrs. Kelley, who was formerly Miss Edna Wickson, is an exceedingly good student, and she has studied specially along art lines, so her trip abroad will be full of real joy to her.

The Folgers are on their way home from Japan, and Mrs. Maxwell is also expected home in a few days from Honolulu.

ONE of the prettiest of spring luncheons was given at the Palace Hotel today by Miss Florence Sloper, who entertained twenty guests in honor of Miss Adele Scott. Among them were several of the hostess' friends from San Francisco and San Mateo as well as those of the younger set in Oakland. The table decorations were especially artistic. In the center was an old-fashioned Gainsborough garden tied with broad pink satin ribbons and filled with spring flowers that were strewn in profusion about it. At each place was a formal old-fashioned nosegay.

Miss Ruby Bond, who has just returned from abroad where she visited her aunt, Mrs. C. A. Spreckels at Cap Martin near Monte Carlo, was among those present, as were Mrs. J. Walter Scott, Miss Adele Scott, Mrs. Raymond Spilvalo, Miss Robert Newell Fitch, Mrs. W. C. Chidester, Mrs. Robert B. Ayer, Mrs. J. A. DANCE AT MARE ISLAND.

There was a jolly masquerade dance on board the U. S. S. Maryland at Mare Island Thursday evening for which several guests from Oakland went up to the Navy Yard. Among the guests from Oakland were Miss Dorothy and Miss Phyllis Capwell and Miss Ila Lovell, who returned yesterday.

WEDDING IN BERKELEY.

The wedding of Miss Genevieve Garvey and Laurence Bunting took place in Berkeley last Wednesday evening. It was a pretty home affair at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. L. A. Garvey, on Dana street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William Ford Higbe of the Episcopal Church in Centerville, in the presence of the relatives and a few intimate friends. The rooms were most attractively decorated with pink and white fruit blossoms and roses. Miss Berenice Garvey was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a frock of corn-colored crepe de chine with a tunic of lace, and she carried a shower bouquet of pale yellow roses. The bride's gown was of white charmeuse trimmed with real lace. Her tulle veil was held with a wreath of orange blossoms and the bridal bouquet was a shower of lily-of-the-valley and bride's roses. Howard Bunting, brother of the groom, acted as best man. After the wedding the young couple left for Monterey, where they will spend a two weeks' honeymoon. Among the guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. John O. Bunting, Mr. and Mrs. Palache of San Francisco, Mr and Mrs. Robert Bird, Mrs. E. K. De Sabla, Miss Jean Spellenberg, Miss Alice Bishop, Miss Laura Lloyd, Miss Fern Frost, Miss Sue Dyer, Miss Leonora Korb, Miss Maud Garvey, John Spellenberg, Garvey Spellenberg, Robert Braden, Lloyd Gurnett and Robert Bonner.

QUIET WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss Beatrice Cummings of Alameda and Edward Requa Anthony Jr., also of Alameda, which took place at Grace pro-cathedral, was so quietly arranged that it took their friends quite by surprise. Only half a dozen friends were invited to the ceremony. Gresham. The bride's mother, Mrs. L. W. Cummings was present as were Mrs. Margery Shamp Oakes and Miss Timia Shamp, the latter of whom acted as bridesmaid. The young couple left immediately after the ceremony for Southern California, where they will spend a two weeks' honeymoon. Mr. Anthony is the son of E. R. Anthony, assistant superintendent of the coast division of the Southern Pacific.

HELEN KELLER IN ROLE OF TEACHER

Tells Record Audience at Ye Liberty Secret of Her Achievements.

Before an audience that filled every available space in Ye Liberty Theater, while a clamoring crowd reluctantly left the entrance only after the "standing room only" sign had been displayed, Miss Helen Keller and her marvelous teacher, Mrs. John Macy, appeared yesterday afternoon in this city.

Never before was such an audience gathered under the roof of any theater in this city. The maimed, the halt and the blind," aged men and women leaning on staffs or the arm of a guide, the city's poor, and people who had not been inside a theater for years gathered to hear and witness the miracle that has been performed within the past thirty years.

MAYOR INTRODUCES WOMAN.

Mayor Mott, in a warm speech of greeting, yet full of pathos introduced the woman who has made possible all that Helen Keller has accomplished—Mrs. John Macy. Mrs. Macy, herself once blind and an inmate of a school for the blind, has been the constant companion, teacher, guide and friend for the past 24 years, and she graphically told of the early years of struggle for the mastery of the almost superhuman, of the four years hard pull at Harvard; of the happy day when this wonder-girl received her degree of bachelor of arts. Her lecture was replete with incidents touching upon phases of her life not found in books nor magazine articles. She told how the Bell telephone was perfected by the ardent work of Bell in trying to devise some instrument by which this girl would be able to hear.

DISCIPLE DROVE TEACHER.

"I owe my education to her," said Mrs. Macy, "for instead of the teacher leading the child, the child drove the teacher. In fact, it was difficult for me to keep up with her, so determined was she to learn." A pathetic side to Miss Keller's life was brought out when Mrs. Macy told the audience that it took the girl 20 years to learn to speak.

"But no matter what happens," said Mrs. Macy, "no matter how the body is wrecked, the mind goes on, and signs go from one mind to another. The mind is self-developing." The patient teacher told her audience that she had followed the principals now given to the world by Madam Montessori before that noted woman had discovered them.

Then Miss Keller was led before the audience, and in a voice the like of which has never before been heard this wonder-woman of the age, delivered her message. She could be heard in all parts of the theater, her voice rising and falling with the same inflections as though she heard, and although some words seemed to escape with difficulty, still they were perfectly formed, perfectly accented and perfectly cadenced.

"Love of humanity is my whole secret," said the speaker, "and it is love that fills the universe, and it was the great love of my teacher that has caused me to speak and hear and see. For I was dumb, now I speak. I was deaf, now I hear. I was blind; now I see. How do I do all this? Listen. I never have seen the glorious stars shine in yonder heavens, but they shine through my mind deep into my soul. I have never seen the splendor of the sunset, yet my soul has caught the afterglow. I have never heard the human voice, yet through my books characters and life speak to me all the time. And now I can really speak to you and bring you my message of love for all mankind."

The report that Miss Keller heard the high notes of an opera singer while in Los Angeles some days ago was confirmed by Mrs. Macy, who told of the happiness of Miss Keller over the incident, and the promise it holds.

RETURN FROM HONEYMOON AFTER 16,000-MILE TRIP

KANSAS CITY, March 21.—Society note: Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hill, who were married November 15, will return from their wedding trip. Their honeymoon took them to New York, Liverpool, Buenos Aires, London, Berlin and Paris.

Dottie Barzen Hall and her husband, Charles H. Hill, are coming home. They will arrive at the Grand avenue depot at 8:05 o'clock this evening. They started two hours after the marriage ceremony in Kansas City, November 15, to their new home in Buenos Aires, Argentina, an 8000-mile journey. They stayed there a little more than a month and then decided to make it a 16,000-mile wedding trip by coming back home.

The same crowd that waved the two young people good by at the Grand avenue depot four months ago will welcome them this evening.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Hill have not explained why they are coming back home, it is understood the climate and customs and manner of living in the South American republic caused the bride to become homesick. They returned by way of London, Paris and Berlin, where Mrs. Hill has friends.

SENIORS NOT AFRAID TO EXPRESS CHOICE

SPRING REFLECTED IN PARISIAN FASHIONS

In the Spring Women's Fancy Turns to Dress

Thoughts of Spring are sprouting along with new vegetables and the grass. Milady turns her attention to sartorial delights that are sure to arrive with the changing seasons. Here are hints from Parisian modistes.

For the demi-saison the costume tailleur is the most eminently suitable wear, of which the above is a delightful example with its simple but cleverly-cut and graceful coat, to which the appropriate plain plisse frill of the blouse gives the requisite finish. The tall, well-fitting hat with its neat little tilted brim is en suite with the rest of the costume.

The blouse is one of mousseline [illegible] Coarse lace [illegible] hand-embroidered and tucked lawn form this fascinating blouse. The quaint and altogether new cut of the shoulder and sleeves should be specially observed.

PUMPKIN BLOWS UP.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., March 21.—Mrs. James Crasper of Freedom Plains, Dutchess county, is minus a kitchen range, and wonders why she escaped without serious injury in a peculiar accident today.

A pumpkin which she was thawing out in the oven blew up and wrecked the stove.

Secretly Wed Following Romance

W. A. Robinson and Mrs. E. H. Bernhard Are Married

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—It was as the bride of William A. Robinson Jr., son of a millionaire manufacturer of Louisville, Ky., that the former Mrs. [illegible] the greetings of friends when she appeared at the St. Francis Hotel for tea yesterday afternoon. Her secret marriage, following a romantic meeting with young Robinson aboard the battleship North Dakota, took place at Vallejo a week after the elopement to Los Angeles of pretty Muriel Buell of this city and William Caples of Arizona.

Robinson and Mrs. [illegible]hard, who is the divorced wife of Louis Bernhard, a San Francisco merchant; William Caples and his future bride; Miss Caples and Walter Johnson, formed a party on the South Dakota the day young Caples gained Miss Buell's consent to an elopement. A day later, while Robinson and Mrs. Bernhard were laughingly discussing the reception aboard the warship and the story of the Caples-Buell elopement, the young Kentuckian suddenly proposed to Mrs. Bernhard.

At first he was received with little encouragement, but after several days' perseverence, Mrs. Bernhard capitulated. A quiet marriage was agreed on and Vallejo finally chosen for the ceremony.

"We thought best to keep our marriage a secret for a time until my husband could advise his parents in Louisville," said Mrs. Robinson yesterday. "This he did and we finally decided to reveal our secret to our mutual friends yesterday."

WOMEN CROWD TO HEAR WASHINGTON

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—Never before in the history of the Friday Morning Club—so say its oldest members—has the clubhouse been so crowded as yesterday when Dr. Booker T. Washington, the colored orator and educator, appeared on its platform. For the first time since the clubhouse was occupied the stage was utilized as an annex to the auditorium, thereby accommodating 100 extra people.

The crowd thronged the aisles in the rear, the stairway, the foyer and—it goes without saying—the fire ordinance was not only cracked, but smashed to smithereens. People stood outside the windows and craned their necks for a glimpse of the speaker and strained their ears to catch his words. Some even stood on the roof and peered through the ventilating windows in their efforts to get within hearing distance.

Dr. Washington gave a vivid description of the work of the Tuskegee Institute, and told how the negro had increased in literacy from 3 per cent, just after the war, to 69 per cent at the present time. After the meeting adjourned Dr. Washington was a guest of the club at luncheon.

GOES BACK TO HER HUSBAND AFTER ELOPING

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Mrs. Nellie Hunt, who was arrested here several days ago with her former husband, E. C. Roe, after they had eloped to this city from Portland, was released from custody yesterday by the local police. She left police headquarters with her present husband, C. T. Hunt, who came here from Portland following her arrest, determined to induce her to return home.

Mrs. Hunt was divorced from Roe several years ago. She later married Hunt, but left him again for Roe, with whom she came to this city.

Hunt told the police that he intended taking his wife to her mother in Portland and would have her then decide whether she desired to return to him or live with her mother.

MRS. STRONG BACK FROM SOUTH SEAS

HONOLULU, March 21.—Mrs. Isabel Strong, stepdaughter of Robert Louis Stevenson, who arrived yesterday from Samoa, said that the Stevenson tomb on Mount Vaea is in a splendid state of preservation. The news of her mother's recent death at Santa Barbara was relayed to her by wireless from Suva, the capital of the Fiji group.

SYLVIA PANKHURST SPEAKS FROM AMBULANCE

LONDON, March 21.—Sylvia Pankhurst, the militant suffragette, ill and haggard, made a dramatic appearance at a meeting of suffragettes in the Limehouse district last night. Lying in an ambulance, attended by nurses who administered stimulants to her, Miss Pankhurst delivered a brief speech which aroused her audience to great enthusiasm.

GIRL DENIES SHE WILL LEAVE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Miss Isabelle Hagner, social secretary to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, and former secretary to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt while in the White House, laughingly denied this afternoon the report that she had resigned. It is thought the report started through a jocose remark Miss Hagner is said to have made that she would "resign" if there were another White House wedding.

Do Not Neglect Your Complexion

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

LILLIAN RUSSELL.

HOW many women only realize that their faces need attention when the lines become feathery furrows, deep set and almost permanent? It is almost too late when they say, "I never have used anything on my skin, but I must begin now." That is absolute negligence.

No one is too young or too beautiful to neglect herself. A lovely clear, rose and cream complexion can be lost in three days' illness. Let a severe case of indigestion, [illegible] candles, or [illegible] drink overtake one, and it will be but the matter of a few weeks when all the beauties of a youthful complexion are lost forever. To be beautiful of face one must be healthy. That is the first rule for beauty. And it must not be broken, or ugliness will be the penalty.

The young girl of today who looks at herself in the mirror and sees reflected there only freshness and beauty must guard that beauty in proportion to her appreciation of the gift. Late hours, drink, too much rich food and neglect will drive it away in a short space of time.

Keep your stomach clean and pure. And above all keep your mind clean and pure. The last command takes care of the first two to a great extent. But even clean and pure minds may be lazy, therefor I must add, do not be lazy. Never retire at night without cleansing your face either with cream of some sort or with warm water. Never arise in the morning without washing your face in cold water. When cold winds or sunshine blister your fair skin, attend to it at once. Put some healing cream upon the skin and continue to do so daily until it is normal again. Do not abuse your skin by violent rubbing nor by the use of impure cosmetics. If you need powder buy only the best. There is no economy in cheap powder. But do begin to treat your face kindly at an early age. It is far more difficult to obliterate or smooth out wrinkles than it is to prevent them.

Remember: The cultivation of beauty begins in childhood, and cleanliness is its first rule.

LIZZY—Girls of both 15 and 13 should wear their dresses according to their size. If you are large for your age the dresses should come to the shoe tops. Both girls should wear their hair as girlishly as possible. I do not think there is anything prettier than to see a young girl with her hair in one long braid or curl down her back with a ribbon bow at the back of the neck. I shall be glad to send you the treatment for removing blackheads if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

NELLIE—The green soap so often mentioned does not come in cake form. It is really soft soap and is yellow in color. It is a paste and comes in small jars. I am sure you can buy it at any drug store.

E. P.—I am sorry, but I cannot give you a formula for lavender water.

BLUE-EYED BLONDE—No, I don't think you are too stout. You are still young and have plenty of time to get thinner. I would not advise you to do anything just now. It may interfere with your general health.

Jealousy as a Compliment

(By DORIS BLAKE.)

"I'M glad Harry is jealous of me. It's a compliment, I think." And Gladys put her head on one side and simpered in a most irritating way.

"It may be," the more practical Helen admitted, "but I think you'll find it an inconvenient compliment, because jealousy and suspicion generally go hand in hand."

Gladys' engagement to Harry was less than a month old. Within three months she had a different tale to tell Helen. Harry's jealousy was no longer a compliment, [illegible] found she was expected to account for every hour she spent out of her fiance's sight. And she vigorously objected to being cross examined as if she were in the witness box, having, as she put it, the smallest apparent discrepancy in her answers pounced upon as evidence of deceit.

The other day she went at Helen in tears. She had been obliged to put off an engagement with Harry because an aunt was coming to town to shop and had asked her to meet and accompany her. It happened on their shopping expedition they met an old school friend of the aunt's and he invited them to have a cup of tea with him. That night a furious letter reached Gladys denouncing her "treachery" and warning her not to attempt to deny that the aunt was just a "blind."

Matters have been patched up for the time being. But it is quite possible that Gladys' life with Harry will be a most unhappy one. Unreasonable jealousy has wrecked so many lives. Indeed, such havoc has this evil wrought that the motto of engaged couples should be: "Trust me all in all or not at all."

If you discover your lover to be unreasonably jealous you need not hope to cure him by giving him no reason for the green eyed monster "which makes the food it feeds on." Of course, there is some truth in the saying "No love without jealousy." The man who would calmly watch his betrothed flirting with another man or showing marked preference for the society of others might be justly set down as no lover at all.

But the jealousy that sees infidelity in the loved one's most casual intercourse with other men is not love. It is want of confidence and is more of an insult than a compliment.

SHE LIKES HER COUSIN.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a young man of 22, and am engaged to a girl of 20. We love each other very much, but she seems to pay more attention to her cousin, who recently came to the city, than she does to me. Do you think it proper for her to entertain him the way she does, as we are to be married in a year from now. Please let me know if I should break the engagement or shall I demand an explanation? B."

Her actions toward her cousin are prompted entirely by family affection, I am sure. Do not allow them to cause you any uneasiness.

"Dear Miss Blake: How old must a girl be before she is legally of age? Is the law pass that was made some time ago stating that a girl was not of age before she was 21? If not why? If not has there been another one made to that effect? If so when does it come into effect? Thanking you, I am, "HA WANNA."

A girl is legally of age at 21 I believe in many States. I should advise your consulting a lawyer on this subject.

"Oakland, Calif., March 16, 1914.
"Dear Miss Blake: You have helped so many young men in their troubles, I am sure that you will help me. I am a young man of 22 and considered very good looking. I am in love with a young lady of 19 and she says she could love me if I would only shave off my mustache. Now I hate to do this very much as I think it is very becoming to me, but she says she can never marry me unless I do. I love her dearly, but hate to make this sacrifice. What would you advise me to do? Do you consider my writing poor? ANXIOUS JOE."

If you love the young lady truly you will do well to sacrifice your mustache for her. Your writing is neither [illegible]

"Berkeley, Calif., March 16, 1914.
"Dear Miss Blake: Will you please inform me through the columns of the OAKLAND TRIBUNE as to the customary fee for the minister when the marriage takes place either at the minister's house or very quietly at the home of the bride. Also, the fee for a church wedding. Thanking you in advance, I am, Yours truly, E. H. L."

Some lawyer will be glad to tell you the legal fee for a minister. Anything which you want to add to that account you may do. It is customary to give the minister as large a check as you feel that you can afford.

SHE GOES WITH ANOTHER BOY.

"Dear Miss Blake: I have been in love with a little girl over a year, but she has been going with another boy. She has been so true to him. At times I was afarid she might care for him, but he has used her, so I can see she don't care as she did. He never loses an opportunity to try to make her jealous. When he went with her first I was here and saw his actions. It made me so mad I wrote him a letter and told him what I thought, but shortly after I left these parts and have just returned. I would give the world to go with the girl, but up to now I was not good enough, but I have lived a good, upright life for the past 14 months. Do you think, under the circumstances, I would be doing right to try to win her? She is a sweet, pure-minded, light-hearted, jolly companion. He ought to be proud to get her, but the other boys tell me he never treats her right, but will always pick out some other girl and carry on at all parties. And she has told her girl friends she has about got enough. He is too sure of himself. Sometimes she thinks she hates him, as he is always talking of some other girl. She has got so she hates to go anywhere with him, as he embarresses her by his actions in slighting her before folks. "ANXIOUS."

There is no reason why you should not try to win the girl's affections. Surely that would not be hard if you are truly devoted to her, for the other young man has proved himself most thoughtless.

ANDREA DIBBLE.

With regret little Andrea Dibble of this city said goodbye to her playmates here and is now residing in Los Angeles. Prior to her departure she gave a birthday party in Hotel Oakland, where she entertained about a dozen boys and girls. Andrea often took part in local entertainments and shared the honors with many talented juveniles. Already she has made friends in Southern California, where she is attending school. The child is a very graceful dancer and has had the pleasure of appearing with professionals before large audiences in this city.

Original dances are now being performed by the gifted youngsters of this community. Many of the little folks are learning the tango. Among the first to master the steps was little Charles Hall Birnbaum, the 7-year-old poet and the former yell leader of the Franklin school.

Writes of Game With the Napa High School

Robert Adams, a member of the graduating class of the Oakland high school and the athletic editor of the Weekly Aegis, has written the following account of the first out-of-town baseball game which was played with the Napa high school last Saturday in Napa, where the Oakland high school team lost by a score of 6 to 5.

Oakland journeyed to Napa last Saturday and lost a hard-fought game by the score of 6 to 5. The team that was opposed to Oakland was partly made up of Napa high school players and partly of layers reresenting the city of Napa, so you can see that it was no disgrace to lose to such a team.

Oakland scored one run in the first inning, when Hawks walked, stole second and third and scored on a wild pitch. Oakland held this lead until the fifth, when a hit an couple of errors tied the score. Oakland came right back and scored two more when Hawks singled with a man on second and third.

Again Napa tied the score and again Oakland went in the lead when Manager McDonald scored two with a two-bagger. Napa finally won out in the ninth inning on an infield hit and a couple of errors on the part of the Oakland infield. It was a see-saw game throughout, with Napa finally winning out.

Ellison completely outpitched the Napa twirler, but his support was poor at times, and this explains the loss of the game. He allowed Napa four hits, while Oakland was gathering eight.

Mr. Iliff accompanied the team and he certainly showed a lot of pep. The fellows surely were fortunate in being able to have his company. He was enthusiastic over the prospects of the team and especially pleased with the behavior of the fellows.

This was the first time Oakland appeared in her new uniforms and the natives of Napa certainly were startled when they saw the team enter the field.

The teams lined up as follows:
Oakland High—McDonald c., Ellison p., Hawks 2b., Suhr 3b., Maloney 3b., Bannon ss., Woolridge lf., Adams cf., Jordan, Atkinson, rf.

Napa High—Edgerly c., Nassaw p., Ed Hennerry 1b., Bert Hennessy 2b., Guisto 3b., Tasmer ss., Cherige lf., C. Nassaw cf., Wezette rf.

SENATE MEETING.

Last Tuesday Miss Emma Schneider gave the Senate a very interesting and instructive talk on the preparation of debates. Starting with writing notes, Miss Schneider explained the entire process of preparing a debate, and gave the Senators many valuable hints as to the looking up of references, arranging of material, and the taking of notes.

This is the second of a series of interesting lectures which are being given by the Senate this term. Principal Keyes was the first one to speak under this arrangement, and the program committee has announced that Miss Schneider's talk will be followed by many other interesting lectures throughout the term.

New Names on List of Oakland High Debating Team

A large number of new names have been voted into the Ecclesia, the girls' debating society of the Oakland high school, this term, and Grace Sternberg and Agnes Carpenter will be admitted.

The semi-annual "initiation" is being planned, under the management of Lyndall Jacobs. The "stunts" are decided upon, and the rehearsals have begun. So far, the prospects are very encouraging. The girls are all working hard and are progressing in their preparations for the ceremony.

DEBATE POSTPONED UNTIL FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The debate which was to have been conducted in Lincoln school yesterday afternoon by the eighth grade pupils was postponed until next Friday afternoon. The discussion will be attended by the students of the class. The subject selected for the debate remains unchanged. It is "Resolved, that McClellan should be superseded." The speakers on the negative side will be Mabel Bowbear, Francis Buck and Milton Hughes. The affirmative orators will be led by Marion Cowen. His assistants will be Clifford Hughes, Miriam Mannsmehead, Frank Merrill.

DEPLORES CHILDLESS HOME.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 21.—"Home" was the subject of a stirring address by Rev. Dr. George R. Stuart of Knoxville, Tenn., at last night's session of the midwinter Bible conference. Dr. Stuart pleaded for larger families and deplored the childless homes of America. "This is an age of motherless homes because of childless wives," Dr. Stuart said.

BISHOP TO MAP OUT AERO ROUTES

Sails for Europe to Attend Big Skymen Event Concerning Round World Trip.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Cortlandt F. Bishop, who sailed today aboard the Imperator, has arranged while abroad to attend several big events in aeronautics as the representative of the Aero Club of America, of which he is a vice-president. It is his intention also to gather information for the use of the club in preparing regulations for the proposed aeroplane race around the world of the Panama-Pacific Exposition. He will seek the co-operation of the National Aero [illegible] in the countries through which the route of the contest will pass.

Bishop will attend the special meeting at Paris in May of the International Aeronautic Federation, called to urge on the governments of the world that civilian aviators be allowed to fly across their frontiers when properly identified, without incurring the penalties of fine and imprisonment. He will also represent the club in an official capacity at the races for the Schneider Marine Flying Trophy and for the Coupe Internationale d'Aviation.

Cuthbert Lee of this city, formerly secretary to Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell of the Labrador Missions, has informed Arnold Kruckman, head of the Panama-Pacific Exposition aeronautical bureau, that in July and August there is open water in the straits between Labrador and Greenland, and that many fishing smacks ply back and forth between Battle Harbor, Labrador, and Cape Farewell, Greenland, a part of the proposed flying route. This [illegible] around-the-world race and Mr. Lee's report was favorably received.

QUARANTINE INSPECTORS GET BRYAN'S LLAMA

NEW YORK, March 21.—The llama which arrived last Sunday by the liner Verdi from Buenos Ayres, consigned to William J. Bryan, will go away again next Tuesday on the Verdi, not back to its native South America, but to England. At least it will start in that direction, but before now, according to seafaring men, dead llamas have been floating in from the three-mile limit after they have been rejected by live stock quarantine inspectors.

The llama, one of several which arrived by the Verdi in the usual course of things, would go back with the Verdi to Buenos Ayres on her next trip. As it happens, however, the Verdi is going first to Manchester for the installation of a new refrigerating plant. So the llama has to start for England.

Members of the crew who have been caring for the animal expressed the opinion today that the animal quarantine inspector was mistaken in saying it had foot and mouth disease.

GOVERNOR E. O'NEAL DENIES LACY CHARGES

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 21.—"An unqualified falsehood," was the term applied here last night by Governor Emmett O'Neal of Alabama, to a statement issued from the jail yesterday by Theodore Lacy, former chief clerk in the state convict department, in which Lacy claimed he gave the governor in 1911 $27,500, alleged to have been funds of the convict department. Lacy recently was convicted of embezzling $30,000 of state funds and was sentenced to serve ten years in prison.

Governor O'Neal, in his statement last night, asserted that Lacy's charge was made at the instance of political opponents. The governor last night sent a letter to Judge Armistead Brown demanding a grand jury investigation of Lacy's accusation. He said that unless a complete investigation was made by an impartial body he would take action to insure an investigation if he had to call the legislature in special session.

MONTCLAIR, N. J., March 21.—The First Congregational Church, the largest in this city was destroyed by fire last night, causing a loss estimated at $200,000. A high wind carried sparks several blocks and set fire to houses and stores but in all instances the blaze thus set was quickly extinguished.

STUDENTS HONOR VETERAN SCHOLAR

Pioneer of Education Remembered for His Qualities of Intelligence.

Relatives, friends and former students of Veteran Educator C. E. Merwin gathered last night to honor him. At the home of his brother-in-law, J. C. Gibson, the noted man was tendered an affair in celebration of his 80th birthday.

C. E. Merwin is one of the pioneers of education in the country. Beginning 59 years ago as a village schoolmaster, he has taught in many states and in many schools. Last June he retired. The 59 years of his teaching life have been full of experiences, and with many changes in teaching systems which the veteran has successfully installed.

The teacher has been connected with educational work in California for 22 years of his experience. Twenty years ago he was a member of the Oakland school department, and recently taught law in China, where he became noted as one of the most brilliant teachers there.

The work of the teacher began in a village school in Connecticut, where his reputation rapidly grew until he was called to larger schools. Finally he decided to come to California, where his reputation had preceded him, and here he found many responsible posts open. Many prominent Oakland men of today were pupils in Merwin's classes during his teaching days in Oakland.

GOV. JOHNSON OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN IN ALAMEDA COUNTY

KEYNOTE OF CANVASS FOR RE-ELECTION IS SOUNDED

Executive Tells What Progressivism Has Done for California

the keynote of his campaign for the next eight months for re-election and for the success of his team mates of the Progressive party, Governor Hiram Johnson delivered the first address of his canvass in Alameda county at the Berkeley high school auditorium last evening. He recounted the achievements of the Progressive party, told that it had driven the railroad out of politics, that it had made the people the real rulers, that it had given laws for the protection of women and children and that it had been economical. He laid chief stress in his address upon the workingmen's compensation act, which he declared to be the administration's principal achievement.

He was presented to the audience of 1,200 people by C. C. Young, speaker of the last assembly, who prefaced his introduction with a plea for support for the local Progressive organization. There were a large number of local Progressives seated upon the stage as vice-presidents. The following in part was Governor Johnson's address:

"In our nation there was in existence at one time a great ruling party. You who know your United States history will remember its many glories and its many triumphs and achievements. In 1856 the old Whig party faded finally out of existence, in spite of its tremendous past, because there had come to the people a great and burning issue. Upon this issue the party did not dare to take a stand go ahead with that policy in a businesslike and honest manner. We may learn great lessons today from the history of that party, and I want to tell you about the interesting features of its ultimate decline.

SUPPORT CONSTITUTION.

"On May 29, 1856, there assembled a little body of men at Bloomington, Ill., whose sworn purpose among themselves was the perpetuation of the constitution and the principles for which it stood. They dedicated themselves there to the perpetuation of the principles which the constitution and the declaration of independence were based, that all men are in truth created free and equal. In that meeting was a great coming together of opposite views. Democrat sat next to Whig and Whig shared his bench with Abolitionist. Whig, Democrat and Abolitionist tried with all his earnestness to meet on a common ground his colleagues, though they differed in political belief. Despite every effort to accomplish this aim for the support of the new principles to which they were pledged, it was soon obvious that the antipathy of the one partisan to the other could not be downed. Suddenly there rang out through the assembly chamber in the clarion tones of one who had seen a great light the call of a name that was not upon the program.

"'Lincoln! Lincoln!' that man called, and the cry was taken up from other parts of the hall. Abraham Lincoln, tall and gaunt and ungainly, [illegible] with the light of honesty and bravery in his eyes, stepped upon the platform. Now you must know something about Lincoln. He had been a special pet of the Whig party, which was here threatened with dissolution. Three times he had been a member of the Illinois legislature as a Whig elective. Once that party had sent him to congress. At another time it had almost succeeded in electing him to the senate of the United States. He had been in the forefront of every battle and had given every evidence in his behef in the principles of the Whig party.

CHOOSES WAY.

He saw himself now at the parting of the ways. On one side was fealty to the party to which he had so long been in allegiance and which had done so much for him; on the other hand, was fealty to the honesty of his own beliefs. His friends begged him not to leave the party, but to remain within it, purifying it, if need be, of the evils which he saw to exist. They begged him to show gratitude to the party which had honored him. They besought him not to run the risks of political death and of various misunderstandings by helping to burst asunder the bands which had so long held the party together. To all of the appeals made to him, except only to the appeals of his own conscience, Abraham Lincoln turned a deaf ear. He chose a way which meant accomplishment of high ends for his people and for his nation.

"We want you who still choose to bear allegiance to the Republican party to look without rancor upon us who have gone into a new party to do therewith the best for our nation and for our state. The members of all other parties are welcome to the ranks of this new one, this new alignment of political elements at one time inimical and adverse. It has been rendered necessary directly by the actions of the leaders of the older parties, who have fallen away from the high standards that were once set for them and are still honored as noble and worthy by many who were until recently of their rank and file.

"It would seem to you to be the height of folly in a business venture to unite yourselves with those whose ideas and ideals were the opposite of your own. You could plainly see that from such a union no harmony and no accomplishment could issue. If a benevolent object were yours you would be chary of choosing as your associates persons who could not share your views. Why, then, should anyone remain in a political party when its leaders, those who direct its policies and proclaim its principles, have fallen away from the high standards of the past?

NOT IN CHIDING SPIRIT.

"Yet we are confronted constantly with [illegible] thought of leaving the party with which we have long been connected, but which we cannot longer support. I do not even chide any of those individuals who register one way or another differently from my own. I merely claim the right to do as I see fit to hold up what seems to me the most important thing.

"There is one class of voters who come into the most of the political world in this state this year to whom is not presented the necessity of breaking away from any other party or of swearing off the [illegible] thereto to which they were once bound. These are the women. Women who now vote in our state affairs for the first time are given the opportunity to vote unhampered by older allegiances and with solely the wisdom that God gave to them. I look to them, even more than to the men, to vote without any idea of tradition, without any reference to past example or pattern. If they and their fellows will do just that the Progressive party in California will ask nothing more.

"I want to present to you a picture that many of you, the older ones among you, at least, will have no difficulty in remembering, of a time long past in the political battles that recur in our country. I remember more than once marching to the tune of stirring martial music in a political parade. I carried a torch whose flame I could blow as high as the roof of this building, and the possibilities of which never overlooked. With loud huzzas and with cheers, with the hurling of hats into the air and with all the show and the noise we knew how to make, we went about the streets of our city, cheering and clamoring for some political party and for the leaders at its heads.

VOTE TRADITIONALLY.

Then we went to the polls and voted as we had been told to vote. We voted according to tradition and with never a thought to the justice or righteousness of the matter of our balloting.

"That time has past. We have escaped from the thraldom of political party names and the various silliness that went with them. Everyone who has fought for the very right to exist, as I have fought and as many and many a one of you have fought, knows that the chief asset of a government is its men and women and its children. Its value may be learned only in terms of humanity, it can only be so expressed. When you have learned that you have learned the first principle of progressivism. When that lesson has burned its way into your very soul the Progressive party must go forward as far as you are concerned with the glorious work it has set out to perform.

"The Republican party was born in painful travail, grew through tempestuous and troublous times into a stalwart manhood. It has performed the work of the past and performed it well. It had difficult work to do and did it in a manner approached, I may say, by no other party in the history of this or any other country. We shall not desire to detract one whit from the glories of its past. But today is to be judged by today. Today's problems must be met with today's solutions, and the problems of today differ altogether from the problems of the past. It is the height of dangerous folly to assert that they may be solved by the methods of solution that once obtained. Those methods have gone by the board and they must and shall be abandoned.

SAYS PARTY WANDERS.

"The Republican party, moreover, has wandered far afield from the aims and purposes it held at its origin. How foolish to say that Barnes and Guggenheim and Smoot, Lorimer, De Young [illegible] are the legitimate successors of Abraham Lincoln! Our quarrel is not with those who are trying to follow the older regime. Let them not quarrel with us because we are trying to perpetuate in California what came to us in the first primary election in 1910.

"I am not an intense partisan in the sense that I cleave to my party because it is that certain party. I can become an intense partisan for the man or the measure that I believe to be right, but not for a mere party name. It is only a few years ago that we elected our chiefs of police, our mayors and our councilmen because on the ticket at the polls above their names stood the name of a certain political organization. The same silly partisanship obtained up to that time in our cities that before and since has obtained in our nation. But the municipalities earliest realized its futility, earliest realized that they could not thus secure efficiency. So this was changed, and the municipalities have come to elect certain men because those were the men who are thought to be best able to perform the tasks that have to be performed.

ADOPT PRINCIPLE.

"This principle the Progressive party has seen to be wise above all others and has carried it into effect wherever opportunity presented. The Progressive party found it unfortunate that in the judiciary, where every consideration except that of justice should be null and void political partisanship also held sway. So this party abolished the partisan judiciary. It caused the election in this state for the first time of judges without regard to their political affiliation, without questioning even if they had any. More than that, we advanced to the standpoint whence we could discern the inadvisability of politics ever being in any way mixed up with the affairs of our children, and we provided that political designation should be removed from the ballots whereon appeared the names of men to fill the educational posts of our state. More than that, the last legislature, following the spirit of progressivism, provided that the officials of our counties should be elected in this same fair and just manner.

"Therein you may see this terrible harm that we have done the grand old party! Imagine the tears that are wept daily in those newspaper offices that have been accustomed to living upon the evils that have thus been swept out of existence! The next year that the Progressive party is in command in this state, the state officials, too, will be elected after the manner that I have explained to you. This is simply the march of progress. How many of you, may I ask, would return to the old system, would elect your chiefs of police in accordance with whether the candidates were Republican or Democratic, Socialist or Prohibition? How many of you would want to elect your judges [illegible]

TO NAME ACHIEVEMENTS.

"In the state of California in the past three years many things have been done for the bettering of government which the Progressive party now offers to you for your approval or disapproval. I shall ask neither man nor woman to vote for me for governor who disapproves of these things. I shall go about this state presenting to my hearers the achievements of this administration, and I shall say to them:

"There it is. Take it and go forward; leave it and go back."

"If I make the people of this state understand just what has been done, then I believe the administration is entitled to your support for its accomplishments at the coming election. On this ground alone I shall make my appeal to the people of my state.

"Let us see what these accomplishments have been. It is needless for me to point out to you the conditions that existed in California before 1910. We then undertook, the Progressives did, to cleanse the politics of the state of California and to drive out privilege of every kind, but most especially the privilege of the Southern Pacific Company. In that campaign that was the one great thing we undertook to do. In 1911 we took control of the state. Before that time the Southern Pacific Company had regulated California, thereafter California regulated the Southern Pacific Company. Now there is no privileged class in this state, no privileged corporation, no privileged contractor, no privileged department. We are able to display as the result of our labors a government free from special privilege of every sort, clean to the end, controlled by no single interest, of individual or corporation, except the interest of the people as a whole.

RULE BY PEOPLE.

"The direct primary, the recall and initiative and referendum, woman's suffrage. These have been given to the state by the Progressive party and these compose the engine which had forced special privilege out of power. These have enabled the people of this state for the first time to govern themselves, to direct their own future. If California is governed ill, then the blame must lie upon the people themselves. If the state is not run right, you have only yourselves to blame, for to you all rights and all powers and all privileges have been delegated.

"The Progressive party in this State has but two fundamental principles. It means first to give the government back to the people from whom it was once wrested; it means, in the second place, to protect and uphold the men and women and children of which it is composed.

"Poverty in the last few years has been for the first time injected into politics. The government must take care of this problem, and it has been taken care of in California. We have not merely indulged in vapid vagaries. We have tried by a sane and wise social program, to better the conditions of the poor and to prevent poverty.

"We have thus incurred the hatred and enmity of two classes. On the one hand is the class composed of those interests that suppose they can prey upon the people of this State by being their masters. On the other hand is the class that believes in no work, no social system, not even in government itself. So we are presented with the spectacle of unprincipled capitalists and corporations fighting side by side with the I. W. W. to wreck the welfare of this State. It is a strange alliance this my friends, an alliance of marauders, an alliance upon which we expect the people of California to put a stamp of their severest disapproval next November.

SAILING DANGEROUS SEA.

"When you touch a man's pocket you touch his heart. You make thus an enemy who is slow to forgive and who never forgets. We [illegible] on the other hand, for whom you have made that enemy are too prone to forget too easily. Every man and corporation whom the Progressive policies have thus touched, unless above such trivial pettinesses, is against our program and our legislative enactments. The Progressive party is today sailing a dangerous sea, with the Scylla of anarchy on the one hand and the Charybdis of ultra-radicalism on the other. It will safely escape both perils and come at last into the haven of social justice and honesty.

"Among our chief aims is in time to raise our impoverished and unfortunate derelicts which every society must have, to a place [illegible] their fellow beings. Our child labor laws, bent toward this goal, have rendered child labor a practical nullity in this State. We have believed that women should be saved from inhumane hours of labor and we have passed, therefore, a law to make certain that this shall be achieved. A state commits a gross crime against its future citizenry that permits women to work for less

NURSE LEAVES; CASE IS A MYSTERY

Message Received From Unknown Person Purports to Tell of Marriage.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—While the police were searching everywhere today for Bessie Armstrong, a beautiful nurse, 20 years of age of the German Hospital staff, the young woman's room mate received a mysterious telephone message indicating she had been married and was going to leave immediately for Portland, Oregon.

The published marriage license list shows no such name as Armstrong upon it, and the communication of the girl only adds to the mystery of her sudden leaving of the institution and a large circle of friends in this community.

Miss Armstrong left the hospital at 2 p. m. on Thursday for the afternoon. She was due back soon after nightfall but failed to put in an appearance. After she had been away all night the superintendent notified the police. Today it was learned that the young woman with whom the girl had been chumming since joining the institution, had received a message from her.

"I am married" said Miss Armstrong over the wire, "and I am going to Portland. Wish me luck. Goodby."

That was practically all and although Miss Armstrong is at liberty to do as she likes, the hospital people are fearful that something may be wrong.

The girl's father and step-mother reside at Yountville, California, but she has a mother either in Portland or Seattle. She has been attached to the staff at the German Hospital for a year and a half, having completed half her training course.

HOW BELMONT MET HIGH LIVING COST

Son of August B. Gave $50 Since Wedding, Says Wife

NEW YORK, March 21. — Ethel Lorraine Belmont underwent a searching cross-examination when she appeared as a witness in her suit for a separation from Raymond Belmont, son of August Belmont, whom she married in November, 1912.

Although she had passed as an actress, she admitted today that she had never been on the stage. She had met young Belmont in 1909, she said. They had discussed [illegible] in detail their married life together.

"He figured out on a piece of paper one day while we were lunching that he could marry me and allow me $400 a month to run the home," she testified. "'I'll take what dogs I have in my kennels on Long Island and move them to Jersey and we'll raise beagles,' he told me. He said there was lots of money in beagles and he knew how to raise them."

Mrs. Belmont declared at the present time she had only about $1000 left of a lump sum of $20,000 and other amounts that her husband had given her before her marriage. She said she had received only $50 from him since the wedding.

The case adjourned to next Friday.

Spring Enters With Gales and Torrents

PARIS, March 21.—The first day of spring was heralded by fierce northwesterly gales and a torrential rain. Enormous damage resulted in Paris and in the north of France.

At the Villa Coublay military aviation field the damage amounted to $70,000. Four aeroplanes were wrecked.

No ships were able to leave Brest yesterday. A wireless dispatch received there reported the tank steamer Jules Henry in a critical situation eighty miles off Brest harbor with her engines broken down. Numbers of fishing boats were reported missing at different ports.

Columbia Chorus Turn Newsies for Benefit of Lodge

"It's fierce to get up early in the morning."

This is the verdict of the pretty chorus girls of the Dillon and King Company, who this morning violated all precedent by getting up before 10 o'clock, that they might turn "Newsies" after the rehearsal. Riding about the city in automobiles, and crying "Extra" in every tone from Allegretto Moderato to Andante, they shouted "TRIBUNE," and sold a small auto load of the dailies.

The newsie girls' expedition was for the benefit of the big Eagles Show, to take place next Tuesday at Ye Liberty Theater. The chorus girls who sold TRIBUNES to help the big benefit were: Miss Lillian King, Miss Erma Gage, Miss Martha Marshall, Miss Anita Marshall and Miss Vera Vaughan.

Large crowds gathered about the auto load of girls who aided in the novel benefit. The great benefit of Tuesday is under the direction of the Fruitvale Aerie of Eagles, and many features are slated for the affair. The features of the program will include Miss Velma Stech, Miss Earl Rosenthal, Miss Honora Hamilton, Miss Millie Pedro, fiancee of Joe Azevedo, who will make her last appearance in public at the benefit, and many others. Officers of the Eagles lodges of the bay cities will occupy boxes at the big show.

Bandit Kills Watchman; Shot Dead by Officers

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—George W. LaPorte, a Santa Fe railroad watchman, was killed at Corona this morning by Sam Morie, a bandit, found in a box car. Morie afterward was riddled with bullets by two policemen, both of whom he wounded before he fell dead. Twenty-three sticks of high power dynamite were found upon the body of Morie who, according to papers found in his pockets, came from Los Angeles.

LaPorte was examining box cars on a siding when he came upon the bandit. He ordered Morie out of the car. The bandit's reply was a bullet that pierced the watchman's heart. Chief of Police Ramsay ordered a search and Frank Ewing and Charles Sherman, of the town night watch, came upon the slayer as he fled along the railroad tracks. Ewing ordered the man to halt. Morie had his hands in his coat pockets and fired his revolver through a pocket. The bullet hit [illegible] leg and as he fell he drew his own weapon and opened fire. Another of the bandit's bullets struck a rib in Sherman's side which deflected the missile from his heart. Both policemen emptied their revolvers at the bandit and eight bullets hit the target.

The dynamite found on Morie's body was strung around his neck. There were twenty-three sticks of 80 per cent dynamite.

When Stewart appeared, Grant asked him if he was the [illegible] who had thrown him out. Stewart admitted that he was, whereupon Grant produced a carving knife and stabbed him four times. Stewart is not expected to live.

A young woman roomer objected to Grant's attentions the police say, and Stewart ejected Grant when she complained.

COLLEGE KIDNAPERS TO FACE PENALTY

Stanford Authorities After Freshman Ball Team Captors

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 21.—Vowing dire punishment, the Stanford faculty is today conducting a rigid search for the hazers who yesterday bound and gagged the entire freshman baseball team, rushing the men in automobiles to the mountains twenty miles away, and leaving them to walk back to the campus. The kidnaping was carried out in order to prevent the freshmen winning the baseball championship of the university. It succeeded. The freshmen were forced to send a pickup team against the Juniors, and the regular team came in, limping and sore from the long walk, too late to help.

The "kidnaping" was carried out under the very eyes of students scattered about the campus, and was one of the boldest infringements of college rules ever witnessed here. The freshmen escaped their captors in the hills and fought their way back, in time to aid in the last innings of the game.

The match was the final championship game of the university. The juniors had defeated the seniors and the freshmen the sophomores, fearing that the freshmen would gain the championship a squad of sophomores decided on the bold kidnaping as a means of breaking up the game. Among the kidnaped ball players were Captain Blaine Stevens of Palo Alto, John Lander of Coalinga, and Walter Stafford of San Francisco. A few of the players were caught by another sophomore squad and hid, den, bound and gagged in the college buildings. These were later released by classmates.

The freshmen pickup team failed to gain a lead over the juniors.

The affair follows close on a recent hazing affair in which a number of sophomores were suspended from the university for "rough-housing" the freshmen. At this time warning was given by the faculty that another affair of the kind would be dealt with seriously. The affair of yesterday, taking place despite this warning may mean possible expulsions if any of the men are caught.

Unearth Second Murder Mystery

SEATTLE, March 21.—The skeleton of a man, believed to have been murdered, was unearthed late yesterday in a lonely spot in the southwestern part of the city. The bones, which were covered with fallen boughs, leaves, moss and loose earth, were found by workingmen cutting grass. Two bullet holes in the skull indicated that the man was shot from behind. A pair of spectacles, rimmed with silver, a gold chain and a watch were found near the skeleton. No clue to the identity of the murdered man was found. This is the second murder mystery unearthed this week, two boys having found the body of a man buried in the southeastern part of the city last Monday.

WIFE SPOILS HUSBAND'S ROMANCE

Mrs. Albert Windt Causes the Arrest of Husband, Who Loves Another.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—After detectives had watched all night outside of the apartments of his affinity, Albert C. Windt, a bookkeeper, [illegible] tanner of 2475 San Bruno avenue, was taken in custody at 6:15 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Charles F. Johnson, a divorcee, residing at 2745 Mission street, from whose apartment Windt emerged, knew nothing of his arrest and was ignorant of the fact that he had been whisked away to Santa Cruz until informed by newspaper men. Windt was apprehended on a warrant sworn out at the instance of his wife, Mrs. Charlotte Windt, charging him with a statutory offense, based on his alleged illicit relations with Mrs. Johnson.

The story of the pursuit of Windt and the presence of Sheriff Howard Trafton of Santa Cruz and Private Detective Dick Bell here leaked out last night and was published in a morning paper. In consequence Bell and Detectives Dave Murphy and Frank Lord of the local department were forced to purloin a newspaper in order to keep the news from Windt and cause him to step into the trap they had prepared. The young man, ignorant of the fact that the police were on his trail, walked into the arms of the waiting officers.

He was booked at the city prison shortly after 7 a. m. and at 8:10 a. m. had been turned over to Sheriff Trafton and was en route to Santa Cruz. Attorney Van Ness, acting for Windt's wife and the latter's mother, Mrs. Charles Maier of 1450 Clay street, put private detectives on Windt's trail. It is claimed that the man accompanied Mrs. Johnson to Waddell Creek, near Santa Cruz, where they posed as man and wife last September.

Mrs. Johnson's husband is manager of the service department of a local automobile concern. He was granted a decree of divorce recently after he had alleged that his wife was too much of a Bohemian for him and that he had been forced to refuse to accompany her on joy rides and to dances.

Johnson disguised himself with a false mustache in his own efforts to trail Windt at Waddell Creek. On one occasion the wind blew a part of his mustache off and he was mistaken for a bandit. Mrs. Windt declares that Mrs. Johnson is responsible for breaking up her home.

The warrant for the arrest of Windt was received last night and the detectives went to the Semloh apartments on Mission street, where Mrs. Johnson resides. They were certain that Windt was there and waited until he left the house today. It was first reported that a warrant had been issued for Mrs. Johnson, but this was not true.

Coal Mine Strikers Maintain Encampment

COLLIERS, W. Va., March 21. — Striking miners of the West Virginia and Pittsburg Coal company, who have been in camp near the company's property since the strike was declared last September, held their ground today. It was reported James Oates, their leader, who is on trial in the United States District Court at Phillippi for violating the injunction of Judge Dayton, had ordered them to leave their tents.

Joseph Bowers, who has commanded the camp in Oate's absence, decided he would maintain the camp until he received orders from John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers, to move.

Former Senator Clark Escapes Girder; 1 Killed

NEW YORK, March 21.—Former Senator W. A. Clark of Montana narrowly escaped death today when a derrick and a fourteen-ton girder fell at the new building here of the Equitable Life Insurance Company. Only the stoutness of the bridge over the sidewalk saved him. Four workmen were not so fortunate, and of three taken to the hospital one is dead.

Mr. Clark was on his way at the time to the Lawyers' Club to attend a meeting of the American Peace Centenary Committee.

LARRY CHAPPELL, the $18,000 outfielder of the Chicago White Sox, is in a hospital here in this city with a damaged heel that is giving disquieting symptoms of blood poison. It will be two weeks at least before Chappell can use his foot and perhaps longer, so ... priced player will be ready to even walk. Chappell suffered a stone bruise of the heel last Saturday and the wound became infected with dirt. When the White Sox first squad left for Los Angeles, Larry was sent to a local hospital, where he has since remained. He is receiving the best attention possible, but his team mates express deep concern over his condition.

WHAT TO DO WITH TOM DALY IS A CALLAHAN PROBLEM.

If Callahan, the Chicago White Hose impressario, could only find a place in the regular line-up for Tom Daly he would cease worrying. Daly is the rosy-cheeked youngster who went around the world with the team and banged at the ball at an abnormal clip. He is a catcher by profession but not good enough to run Ray Schalk out of a job, and yet he mauls the ball so fearfully that Callahan simply has to find a place for him in the line-up. Billy Sullivan has been trying the youngster in the outfield, and yesterday he shifted him to first base for a few innings. Daly got four singles out of four attempts Thursday and two lusty clouts out of four yesterday. He is a husky fast youngster who has lots of pep and confidence, lacking only experience and polish.

SOMETHING ABOUT THIS LADDIE BUCK, RUSSELL BLACKBURN.

There's been quite a bit of discussion going around concerning Russell Blackburn, the second baseman with the White Sox squad now in Oakland. The tip has gone out that this lanky, dark complexioned athlete is due to displace Sam Berger in the regular White Sox line-up and that the Angels, in consequence, are in a fair way to get back their idol. Blackburn has not made an error in any game he has played in yet on the coast and has been batting well, and fielding sensationally. Most of the scribes seem to have doped him as a brand newcomer which only goes to show how fleeting is fame.

Russell Blackburn is the famous $11,000 beauty whom Comiskey, president of the Sox, bought four years ago from Milwaukee. Blackburn was Chicago's regular shortstop for a year and was rated as the most sensational chap at the position the east had ever seen. Then he developed a floating cartilage in his knee cap, and was released. A delicate operation was performed on the injured limb and gold wire used to replace the damaged cartilage. Blackburn gradually recovered and went back into baseball. The Chicago Cubs drafted him last year, deemed him too slow and sent him to Providence. The American Association fans began to sit up and take notice of this flashy player, and the Chicago White Sox in the fall put in a draft and won back the fellow for whom they had originally paid $11,000. Now Blackburn appears to have recovered his old speed, his knee is strong, and he is due to earn for Comiskey that original "beauty price."

BOB BIRMINGHAM LIKELY TO COME TO OAKS THIS YEAR.

Private advices from St. Louis to the writer indicate a strong probability that Bob Messenger, a very fast outfielder and a good hitter, may come to Oakland this year from the Browns. Birmingham of the southern league has officially withdrawn its claim upon the player leaving Oakland's claim enforceable if the Browns do not keep the outfielder and waivers can be secured upon him. Messenger was drafted by the Browns from Birmingham. Portland, Oakland and Providence all filed claims upon the player which would hold good in the event that he was returned to the minors. Oakland won in the drawing but Birmingham still heeds priority until Messenger notified the management of the Birmingham Barons that he would expect a larger salary than the club could afford to pay if he was turned back. This led Birmingham to withdraw from the field in favor of Oakland. St. Louis seems well supplied with outfielders and the probability is that Messenger will come to the Coast. He throws right and bats left and is said to be the fastest running recruit to come out of the Southern League. The Federal League has the majors pretty badly scared and Branch Rickey has not released anyone and Hedges announces it will be a slow process with his club.

HE'S THE BIGGEST LITTLE PITCHER TO EVER APPEAR.

"Red" Wolfgang, the diminutive twirler who worked the last two innings for the White Sox against the Seals yesterday, has everything that a twirler needs except size. He is even smaller than Gene Krapp. What Wolfgang lacks in size however he makes up in determination. This is his fifth attempt to break into the majors, and visiting Chicago scribes think he may at last succeed. Twice he has been tried out with the White Sox, once by the Boston Red Sox, and another time by the Boston Nationals. He won one pennant for Lowell, Mass., and last year he pitched the Denver club into the championship of the Western League. "Pitched and Batted" would be a better way of putting it, for he can stick so well that they used him in the outfield when he wasn't pitching. Wolfgang worked in 40 games and batted .347. The White Sox have him this year on option from Denver and if they don't use him, the Denver populace will meet the little twirler at the depot with a brass band.

About the only question in Henry Berry's mind concerning "Slim" Love, the most altitudinous player in the country, is the problem of transportation. The berth that can accommodate "Slim's" six-foot-seven with any degree of comfort is yet to be constructed. Berry might hire two berths, but there would be danger that Love would contract rheumatism in the legs from the gap in the blankets.

"Honus" Mitze signed his contract late yesterday afternoon, after having enjoyed a heavy ... with the Oaks. He says he never felt better ... this stage ... Manager Devlin, President Leavitt and Secretary Cook all watched the Seals and Sox yesterday afternoon from the directors' box, and the rumor spread that a deal was impending which would leave some spare Sox talent with the Oaks.

Infielder Deal, who worked out with the Oaks, has been given a contract by the Modesto club of the state league.

Catcher Musky has been recommended to the Danville club of the Three I league. The youngster has got back the use of his arm and is fit to play ball now.

SEALS WIN SANDLOT GAME, 8-6

Sand lot baseball with woozy pitching, loose fielding and savage clouting resulted in an 8 to 6 victory for the Seals over the Sox yesterday afternoon across the bay. Errors and walks were responsible for most of the Seal runs. Fournier homed in the eighth and almost repeated in the ninth. Mayer, who caught the first few innings, had a sore arm and couldn't throw, permitting the Seals to trot the bases with impunity.

Benny Henderson will work today for the Seals. The score.

CAMPUS CHATTER

Eleven Stanford men have worked thus far in the baseball season with perfect fielding records. Three of the squad have topped the three hundred mark in batting. Wynne heads the list with 1000, having made one hit on his single trip to the bat. Second in order is Jacks, with 333 per cent in six times up. Captain ... is the only one of the regulars who has reached the .300 mark, gleaning 16 hits in 49 times to the plate, making his average 327.

Walter Christie will put the freshman track team through the final tryout today, when the 1917 runners meet a team from the combined high school and college departments of the Davis farm. The two should furnish a close competition if the agriculturists are as strong as reports seem to indicate. Although the provisional list of entries for the freshman-U. S. C. meet has been made out, it is not unlikely that today's competition will change the slate.

GALLANT KNOCKED TO MAT BY WATSON, BUT CAN'T BEAT HIM

Boston Lightweight Earns a Draw by Piling Up Lead in Early Rounds.

Toby Irwin gave the proper verdict at Pavilion Rink last night in calling the Gilbert Gallant-Red Watson bout a draw at the end of the twentieth round. Getting off to a very poor start, when Gallant outboxed him for the first six rounds, Watson scored a clean knock- ... finished stronger than his opponent.

Alex MacLean's boy showed himself to be a game, clever boxer with plenty of ring science, a good left, but possessing no very damaging punch. Watson is the same old rough and tumble walloping fighter. Gallant made the red-top look like a greenhorn whenever Watson essayed to stand up and box, but when "Red" sailed in swinging wildly, he was able to command the lead. Gallant was very tired at the close of the bout and had it not been for the early lead which he piled up would have lost a decision.

The knockdown, which came in the fourteenth round, was the result of a right swing to the ... Gallant did not take the count but arose and succeeded in outwitting the excited Watson by stalling and clinching until his head cleared.

D. L. Kendall proved the surprise by shading Steve Predie in six rounds. The aged veteran, Rufe Turner, held Tommy Stevens to a six-round draw, Steve being quite apparently afraid of the negro.

Freddie Silva was stopped in the second round by Charlie Cirens.

BASKET BALL

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, March 21.—S. A. MacKay has been chosen captain of next year's varsity basketball team. During the past season MacKay has played a consistent, hard-fought game and his stellar work was a potent factor in the defeat of Stanford in two successive games.

That the team will be aided next season by a coach seems practically assured. Since admission of the games to the category of minor sports repeated attempts have been made to obtain skilled instruction in the game's finer points. Although the executive committee has been unable ... past, Captain-elect MacKay has been assured that a coach will be secured next season.

VENICE PITCHERS ARE BADLY MAULED

LOS ANGELES, March 21. — The Chicago Americans No. 1 team defeated the Venice Coast leaguers again, the score being 6 to 4. Two and three base hits by the Chicagoans in the fifth and seventh innings brought in most of the runs.

BOXING PAYS STATE A HUGE SUM

NEW YORK, March 21. — Boxing paid $38,781 into the treasury of New York State during the last year, according to the report of the State Athletic commission, which regulates the sport, under the Frawley law.

This was five per cent of the gross receipts, which amounted to $777,596. Since boxing was legalized in this State, $1,994,196 has been paid by the fans to witness bouts and of this sum the State has received $99,729.80.

L. E. ROGERS IS VICTOR OVER TAYLOR

Last night's game in the elimination series at three cushion caroms in Wright's billiard parlors was the longest one played so far in the tournament. L. E. Rogers finally got his 18 points after 74 innings, an average of 243.

His opponent, W. W. Taylor, led at first but stopped at 13 with an average of 243. These contests will be continued next Monday when A. F. Gilbert meets R. E. Hummel, playing 17 to the latter's 16 points.

MERCHANTS TO BATTLE FOR BASEBALL HONORS

FRUITVALE, March 21.—The Twenty-third-Avenue Merchants will be the next team to be tried against the strong Fruitvale S. J. S. From all appearances the Fruitvale Reserves grounds will be the scene of a hotly contested game tomorrow afternoon.

The members and the friends of the Sodality and the patrons of baseball in Alameda county have unbounded confidence in this year's fine up. Last Sunday they turned out in large crowds and were richly rewarded by witnessing a pretty test of the future champions. The following lineup for tomorrow's game is interesting:

Fan Suggests Burns-Welsh Bout

March 21, 1914.

Sporting Editor TRIBUNE—Dear Sir: Following the McAllister-Grande contest which is to be held at the Wheelmen's Club, why not have Freddie Welsh come to Oakland and box Frankie Burns over the ten-round route? It would be one of the prettiest contests ever held in Oakland. Why not have Jimmie Rohan sign the boys up? I am sure the fans would turn out in thousands to see such a match.

MOVE TO POPULARIZE POLO IN U. S. MADE IN NEW YORK

Polo Association Leases Big Grounds to Develop U. S. "Hurlingham."

NEW YORK, March 21. — In an effort to popularize and safeguard the game of polo in the United States the Polo Association, the governing body of the sport in this country, it became known today, has taken a lease on the Point Judith polo grounds with the privilege of its purchase.

According to H. L. Herbert, chairman of the Polo Association, it is the intention of making Point Judith the "Hurlingham of America." Arrangements to this end will be the outcome of the management of George Miller, who has been engaged to take care of the tournament at Narragansett Pier and Point Judith, as well as those of Long Island, prior to and after the international matches. In connection with the preliminary tournaments to be held on Long Island prior to the international matches the following dates have been arranged:

Great Neck, May 11 to 15, Piping Rock, May 16 to 30, Great Neck, June 1 to 6, Piping Rock, June 9 to 13.

GUEST, QUINLAN AND NESS LEAD OAKS IN HITTING

THE first baseball averages are beginning to put in their appearance. They may count for little but they are straws which show which way the wind is blowing. Heavy hitting has not been a feature of the Oaks' spring training. There do not seem to be any fence-busters on the team, but that does not say that there are no good stickers. Devlin is aiming at speed and concerted, snappy hitting. He is not strong for the slugger, preferring a chap who can find a hole in the infield and poke the pill through it, rather than the husky who drives the ball a mile in the air and gives the outfielders plenty of time to get under it.

Of course, a month from now some of our distinguished fellow citizens may be murdering the ball, but right now it looks as though it will be a case of slow and persistent maltreatment. Of the regulars, Outfielder Tom Quinlan and First Baseman Jack Ness are leading the flock, the former with a high water mark of .379, and the latter with .318. It must be remembered that the Oaks have not had any ... pitchers of the kind they are accustomed to face in the coast league. The White Sox fed us Reb Russell, Lathrop and Jim Scott, and St. Mary's college offered Joe Oeschger, who is ripe right now for the majors as any Coast leaguer will tell you.

The other pitchers, collegians and semi-pros, were just wild enough and possessed of enough "spring stuff" to fool men who have not watched curve ball pitching for several months.

Men like Middleton and Zacher are taking their time, requiring some conditioning yet. Guest managed to crawl into the box score for a .500 batting mark which is so much better than any of the others, the wonder is expressed that he did not appear oftener.

Murphy, Quinlan and Middleton distinguished themselves particularly in "getting on," Quinlan managing by hook or crook to get to first base safely 17 times; Murphy 15 times, and Middleton 14 times. Quinlan fanned but once. Joe Oeschger, the St. Mary's twirler whiffing him ... drew six balls and was hit twice. Middleton worked pitchers for seven free tickets to first.

Here are the figures, also some dope that comes up from Los Angeles and Venice, where the two clubs fattened their percentages at the expense of some of the young pitchers who were with the Sox "goofs."

SOCCER RE-PLAY IS ON TOMORROW P. M.

The big event in the soccer world will be the re-play between the San Franciscos and Barbarians in the challenge cup competition, the game to take place at the Ocean Shore grounds, San Francisco, tomorrow afternoon. Last Sunday these two teams battled through 60 minutes of the hardest kind of playing to a three goal tie, before one of the largest gatherings of fans at a soccer game on this coast.

The same men who played last week will represent the two teams, with the possible exception of Percy King of the ... just before the end of the game last week, and provided he is not able to play, his place will be taken by Patsy Carrigan.

James Askham will again referee the important match, and Larry Patterson and F. Lemon will be on the sidelines. The game will start at 2:30 p. m., promptly.

POLO CUP DATES TO BE JUNE 9-13

NEW YORK, March 21. — English polo players have become reconciled to June 9-13 as the dates for the international polo cup games, according to a letter received yesterday by William A. OLYMPICS WILL TEST CARDINAL TODAY

The Olympic club track and field team will open the season this afternoon at the Stanford "farm" in a dual meet with the Cardinals. The Olympic club will take down a well seasoned if not well balanced team. The winged "Os" will have no entries in the pole vault and probably none in the shot put and hammer.

Among the team will be: Dr. Beeson, George Horine, high jumpers, Jack Nelson, Gisin, sprinters; Beeson, Morris and Case, hurdlers, Martin, Reed, Stolt, Morris, broad jumpers; Millard, Wycoff, Donovan, Vlught, distance racers.

It is expected that many of the Stanford varsity athletes will be sent through the paces for their first hard workout of the year, as the "big meet" against California is just four weeks from today.

HAYES AND BURNS IN MASON'S CORNER TO HELP HIM WIN

Rival Lightweights Both Assisting George to "Prep" Himself.

(By THE TIMEKEEPER.)

Tickets for next Wednesday night's scraps at the West Oakland club were placed on sale today and, judging by the interest already evinced in the battles the tickets will sell like hot cakes. The Johnnie O'Leary-George Mason ten ... arranged on this side of the bay in many a month and the fans are looking forward to an artistic exhibition of boxing.

"Mysterious" Mason still has the fans guessing. He is performing like a champion in the gymnasium and those who have been watching him work declare if he fights as he boxes in the gym he will be a sure winner Wednesday night. Mason is working at the Yosemite club, Fifth and Union streets, and has Young Kelsey as chief sparring partner. In the second round of their sparring bout yesterday Mason nailed Kelsey ... right cross which sent the latter to the floor and it was several minutes before he recovered.

The Mason right cross is one of the most dangerous wallops carried by any local boxer and should he land on O'Leary it will be "good night" for Johnnie.

Grover Hayes and Frankie Burns are Mason's strongest boosters and they will both be in his corner Wednesday night. Hayes will start work with Mason today and will box with him until the day before the contest. Grover thinks Mason is one of the niftiest lightweights in the business and he will have a bet down on him to bring home the bacon.

O'Leary is working at Al Young's gym across the bay and is displaying dazzling speed in his workouts. Johnnie is one of the cleverest boys in the game but he lacks the big punch. O'Leary knocked Joe Bayley out in 15 rounds a couple of months ago but the critics declared that Bayley was exhausted when the punch came across.

It has been a long time since the local fans saw a heavyweight battle so the George Christian-Jack Vacunich six round special event should prove welcome. Christian is one of the fastest big fellows ever seen on the coast and he will be a favorite over Vacunich. The latter is well thought of across the bay and will be well supported to win.

The four round preliminaries will be of the usual West Oakland brand. The lads are all boxing for a winner's and loser's end and on the first signs of "stalling" they will be tossed out of the ring and another pair substituted. Matchmaker Bob Shand, as usual, has a couple of extra boxers signed up and they will be ready to jump into the ring on a moment's notice.

Jim Griffin will referee the main event while Eddie Warren will work in the preliminaries.

CALIFORNIA FRESHIES MEET U. S. C. TODAY

The California freshmen will meet the nine from the University of Southern California this afternoon. This will be the final intercollegiate contest for the nineteen seventeen men and they have strong hopes to revenge the defeat of the California varsity team two weeks ago.

In the two annual games that have already been played the 1915 and 1916 freshmen teams respectively have lost and won to U. S. C. Today's game will, in a measure, decide the championship. Although a team which is considered a worthy rival for the varsity would seem far superior to a freshman nine, the general opinion is that Coach Price's changes have developed a wonderfully speedy combination this year and bid fair to run the southerners a close race.

The following lineups have been announced:

Freshmen—Jones (Bingaman), pitcher, Getty, catcher; Norton, first base; Montgomery, second base; Morse, third base; Earll, shortstop; Starbird, left field; Gimbal, center field; Lakin, right field.

U. S. C.—Benson, pitcher; Silverstein, Walsh, catcher; Young, first base; Wright ... Holloway, shortstop; Meadows, left field; Millikin, center field; Canepa (Hirsch), right field.

GOSSIP OF THE RING

Bubbles Robinson drops a card from Seattle to acknowledge receipt of a telegram from New Orleans forwarded him by THE TRIBUNE. The wire was from Lou Goldman, the New Orleans promoter and offered the colored lightweight five fights in the south with transportation and 20 per cent of the gross receipts.

Willie Ritchie is due in San Francisco from Detroit April 4 and will commence work at once for his bout with Murphy. He is filling a vaudeville engagement now.

Charley White of Chicago is 10-9 favorite over Joe Azevedo for their ten-round bout at Racine Monday evening but Joe wires that he is confident of taking the measure of the Chicago lightweight. There is a difficulty over the referee question due to be settled tonight. White wants Harry Stout, the same chap who refereed the Wolgast-Ritchie bout while Azevedo and Kid Parker are holding out for Duffy. Joe stopped his sparring partner, Billy Schneider, yesterday in a gymnasium bout in Chicago, dispatches crediting Joe with knocking the veteran cold.

Jimmy Rohan put no stock in the reports from Los Angeles crediting Bob McAllister with agreeing to meet Kid Kenneth April 14 at Vernon. McAllister is signed to meet Sailor Grande here April 21 and has a $300 forfeit up. The articles provide against any intervening bouts.

Heine Miller writes that he intends coming to Oakland to be at the ringside of the O'Leary-Mason bout Wednesday evening and that he will at that time post $100 with "Timekeeper" to bind a match with the winner and Battling Frankie Kirk, lightweight champion of the Navy, the money to go as forfeit and side bet. Frank is working out with Len Crevier, Soldier McCormick and Heine Orchard at Sausalito.

"Timekeeper" acknowledges letters from Sidney M. Sutherland, new manager of Dude Clark, who seeks matches with any 135-pounders, Tom Nickola preferred; from Clarence English, challenging Louis Alberts, recent arrival from Manila, and challenge from Johnny Aaron to Eddie Campi or any boy able to make 122.

PROTEST AGAINST SEWER AWARDS

Berkeley Aroused Over Placing of Contract With Out of Town Bidder.

BERKELEY, March 21.—Invocation of the referendum law looms on today's horizon as a possible sequel to the council's awarding the contract for the Ashby avenue sewer yesterday to William Heafy, an out-of-town contractor. The award was made over the protest of several [illegible] first requested that it be made to William J. Schmidt, the lowest of the Berkeley bidders, and finally that a delay be taken until next week. To both of these requests the council presented a deaf ear.

James H. Todd, P. J. Bither, Wells Drury and others, representing the protesting organizations, conferred after the council meeting but announced no definite plans. Further discussions were held today. At the least it is expected that a memorial will be presented to the council requesting management of future contracts to prevent awards to Berkeley contractors where the bids of the latter are the lowest or approximately the lowest.

Drury appeared yesterday as a protestant in behalf of the chamber of commerce, of which he is secretary, and B. J. Bither for the Berkeley Manufacturers' Association. C. C. Emshe represented the Ashby Improvement club and F. P. Farmer the Federation of West Berkeley Improvement clubs, while the Claremont Improvement club and other organizations also voiced their dissatisfaction. It had been decided to make a test case of the present contract in an effort to give as many municipal works as possible to local contractors. The council was a unit in awarding the contract to Heafy. The latter was represented by Attorney E. C. Robinson. Heafy's and Schmidt's bids were both between $102,000 and $103,000, the latter being slightly less than $500 lower.

TO LECTURE BEFORE COMMERCE CHAMBER

H. F. Estes, inspector for the bureau of explosives of the American Railway Association will deliver a lecture at the Oakland Chamber of Commerce tonight to shippers and carriers, on the subject of transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles coming under the federal law enacted March 4, 1909. This should be of interest to shippers, inasmuch as the difference between shipping by express and freight will be clearly defined. Automobile supply houses and shippers of compressed gases are interested in this subject, and a representative of their shipping departments will be present.

FORMER CITY EMPLOYE SUMMONED BY DEATH

ALAMEDA, March 21.—Rasmus Peter Andersen, a former employe of the street department of Alameda, died yesterday at his home, 1554 Oak street. Andersen had resided in Alameda for 14 years. He was a native of Denmark and 50 years of age.

Andersen was the husband of Mrs. Jensine Andersen, father of Mrs. Anna Cassasa and Miss Julia Andersen, and brother of Andrew J. of Oakland and Niel Andersen of Denmark.

The funeral will be held Monday at 10 a. m. from the parlors of James Fowler, 2244 Santa Clara avenue.

JUDGE CRITICISES JUVENILE COURT

Head of Boys City, Mich., says That Probation Is Given Undue Dignity.

BERKELEY, March 21. — Severe arraignment of the juvenile court was pronounced in an address yesterday afternoon at the Berkeley theater by Judge Willis Brown, head of the Boy's City, Michigan, where 1000 youths make their home. Judge Brown declared that the probation courts have given undue dignity to the juvenile offender, making him too important a personage. The speaker was introduced by Judge William A. Waste, to an audience of several hundred educators, and religious and court workers. Judge Brown explained the bill which he has had introduced into Congress to provide for the establishment of federal paternal courts. He declared that the law now supposes the boy under 18 to be an infant in civil cases, but an adult in criminal cases. He argued for the latter or former conception in both criminal and civil cases. Thus he would make the arrest of a child under 18 impossible.

"I believe we should make certain," he continued, "some fixed punishment which would be imposed arbitrarily upon all juvenile offenders such as the farm school, which has been tried in various communities. Crime is steadily increasing among the mere boys of our nation. I believe this is due in large measure to the imperfections of our probation court. They lend too much dignity to crime. The make of the juvenile offender too important a [illegible] crime is one of the greatest criminal problems with which we have now to deal and I believe that greater sanity than at present must be brought to its solution."

SENATOR JONES' TOLLS RESOLUTION REFERRED

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Senator Jones' much-discussed resolution calling President Wilson or information as to which nations had protested against the Panama Tolls exemption was referred today to the foreign relations committee after Senator O'Gorman and its author had withdrawn objections.

Senator Hoke Smith and Senator Jones clashed when the latter wanted the clerk to read a newspaper story saying the President wanted a limit on Panama tolls debate.

Senator Smith blocked it, but Senator Jones, waiting until a bill on the calendar had been called up read the article which sough to show that the President had told members of the house that debate on the bill should be limited to fifteen hours. "I don't believe the President made any such suggestion," said Senator Borah, Republican.

"We see in almost every newspaper every," Senator Jones continued, "reports of Senators or representatives going to the President to ask whether this or that bill suits him or this or that amendment is satisfactory to him. Whether these reports are correct I don't know, but they occur so frequently that there must be some foundation for them.

YOUNG WOMAN HELD ON LARCENY CHARGE

Miss Virginia Souza, 23 years of age, was arraigned before Judge Samuels this morning on a charge of grand larceny preferred by Louis Camare, 768 Castle street.

Camare alleges that in April, 1913, the young woman took a watch and $15 from him.

Miss Souza declared that he had given her the watch and as it is a question of her word against his, the case will probably be dismissed.

RAILROAD MEN DISCUSS PASSENGER RATES

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Passenger rates to the Pacific coast will be the chief topic of interest at the annual meeting of the Transcontinental Passenger Association, which will be held in this city beginning next Wednesday morning. From all the railroad centers of the east officials of the big transportation systems are arriving.

[illegible] roads will agree on a one-way rate for the round trip, with from $2 to $5 added. This would make the base rate from Missouri river points from $52 to $56, and the rate from Chicago about $62.50 to $65.

CUTS SCREEN DOOR.

ALAMEDA, March 21. — Frank Vignola of 811 Pacific avenue reported to the police that an effort was made to enter his home, the burglar cutting a portion of a screen door.

MOOSE WILL GIVE PRIZES IN PARADE

Carnival to Be Opened by Competition Between Visiting Lodgemen.

ALAMEDA, March 21.—Visitors from many cities of the state will attend the big carnival to be held in this city March 31 to April 5. The fete is to be opened by a night parade, in which lodges from all sections will be represented.

The committee in charge of the parade, Messrs. Lorber and Pritchard, has arranged to give prizes, as follows—for the best band, for the best drill team, for the best drum corps, for the lodge that has the largest number in line and for the lodge that comes the farthest distance to this city. The prizes are to be handsome and the outside lodges are anxious to compete for them.

Delegations from San Francisco, Oakland, Fruitvale and San Jose have already signified their intention of being present.

Plans are being completed for the baby show, which will be one of the big features of the carnival. The committee in charge is now arranging the rules and regulations and assembling the prizes. The show will take place in Moose hall.

HYGIENIC LAWS OF JEWS, LECTURE THEME

BERKELEY, March 21.—Professor M. B. Jaffa, of the University of California, expert on nutrition, will speak at Odd Fellows' hall, Berkeley, Friday evening, March 27 on "The Hygienic Laws of the Jews." The lecture is under the auspices of the First Hebrew Congregation of Berkeley. The public is invited and there will be no collection.

COSMOPOLITANS TO FEAST.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, March 21. The Cosmopolitan club of the university will hold its annual banquet this evening at Stiles hall, with Professor I. W. Howerth, director of university extension, as the toastmaster. Among the speakers will be President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Dr. David P. Barrows and Professor Thomas Forsythe Hunt. President Paiget of the Cosmopolitan club at Stanford will tell of the work of that organization. Beside the speeches there will be music by Chinese and Filipino members of the club.

PLAY IS POSTPONED.

BERKELEY, March 21.—The dramatic section of the Claremont club has changed the date of its next play from March 28 to April 3. On the latter evening Geo. Bernard Shaw's comedy, "You Never Can Tell," will be presented. This is one of the plays contained in Shaw's volume, "Plays for Puritans—Pleasant," contains four acts and is extremely interesting from beginning to end. Mrs. W. F. Kett is chairman of the committee in charge.

CITY COUNCIL PASSES ROUTINE STREET MATTER

Routine street matters were passed by the city council yesterday as follows:

Resolution directing the superintendent of streets to extend the time ninety days for P. H. Hoare to complete the street work in Oakland Highlands.

Approving map of the Belden tract, Oakland, Cal., and directing the city clerk to endorse said approval on said map.

Granting Powell Bros. Construction Company permission to lay a concrete curb on the south side of Lee street, between points 150 feet and 230 feet east of Montecito avenue.

Directing the city engineer to prepare plans and specifications; also resolution of intention for grading, curbing, guttering, oil macadamizing and constructing culverts on Peralta avenue, from the northerly line of School street to the southerly line of Hopkins street.

Directing the city engineer to prepare plans and specifications; also resolution of intention for grading, curbing, guttering, oil macadamizing and constructing culverts on Maple avenue, from the northerly line of School street to the southerly line of Hopkins street.

Directing the city engineer to prepare proceedings for the closing up of portions of Brookdale avenue, between Fruitvale and Peralta avenues.

Recommending passage of resolution of intention for closing up and abandoning portions of Brookdale avenue, between Fruitvale avenue and Camp street.

Directing the superintendent of streets to notify owners to construct sidewalks in twenty days on East Fourteenth street, between Fifty-second and Fifty-fourth avenues.

SWEDES TO BOOST FOR LARGE EXPEDITION FUND

Several hundred members of the Swedish churches, political and benevolent organizations of Alameda county and San Francisco, gathered at the mass meeting held last evening in the First Congregational church of this city for the purpose of planning co-operation with the Swedish government in securing a large representation of Swedish people at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. Rev. A. E. [illegible] appealed for funds and a large sum was pledged. Immediately after the opening remarks the choir of 200 singers of the Swedish churches of this county and San Francisco, led by Dr. C. J. Hagblind, the Svea male chorus of Oakland and the Swedish Singing Society of San Francisco, under the direction of A. Erickson, gave a number of selections. Thorwald Anderson, violinist; Miss Esther Hjelte, pianist, and Miss Esther Lang, organist, assisted in the exercises.

ADELPHIANS PLAN ANNUAL LUNCHEON

Clubwomen of Alameda Will Assemble at Festive Board; Primaries Held.

ALAMEDA, March 21. — The annual luncheon of the Adelphian club is one of the social events of the coming week. Reservations for the luncheon should be made before tonight, as the luncheon will take place Tuesday next.

The past presidents, in their order, who will act as a reception committee, are Mrs. Charles Lewis Tisdale, Mrs. Philip Sheppheard Teller, Mrs. John Nelles Young, Mrs. Isaac N. Chapman, Mrs. Mary Frances McGurn, Mrs. Hubert Everard Hunt, Mrs. Henry Amos Hebard, Mrs. James Edwin Higgins, Mrs. Frank B. Weeks, Mrs. Fred T. Moore and Mrs. L. L. Gillogly.

An interesting program will follow the luncheon, the arrangements for which are in the hands of a competent committee.

The program will consist of songs by Mme. Maurice Couchot, Miss Gertrude Proll and children's songs and other specialties by Mrs. Raymond C. Brooks, under the direction of Mrs. F. J. Collar, after which the little play previously given by the dramatic section, entitled "The Two Little Queens," will be presented by the section.

Application for the luncheon tickets should be made to Mrs. A. O. Gott, 2124 Alameda avenue.

The Adelphian club has presented the following ticket to be voted on at the annual business meeting the first Thursday in April: For president, Mrs. Augustus J. Bowie; [illegible] president, Mrs. Arthur O. Gott; second vice-president, Mrs. George E. Plummer; treasurer, Miss Ida Spencer; general curator, Mrs. Waldo Parkhurst; for directors, Mrs. Phineas Barton, Mrs. Floyd J. Collar, Mrs. Jas. C. Fraser, Mrs. Herman F. Dexter, Mrs. George W. Arnold, and Mrs. Henry C. Bennett; for membership committee, Mrs. James D. Bishop, Mrs. Mary J. Parkhurst, Mrs. Henry A. Hebard, Mrs. John H. Rohr and Mrs. Edward Geldermann.

MILITARY EQUIPMENTS FOR ANNUAL CADET BALL

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, March 21.—Two thousand students of the university and guests attended the annual military ball of the University Cadets when it was held last evening in Harmon gymnasium. The members of the cadet corps were dressed in their military suits with the exception that white trousers had been substituted for the regular gray. The gymnasium was decorated to represent an army camp with a parade ground laid out at one end and a flag staff erected. The national emblems of 42 nations were used in the decorations.

The grand march was led at 9 o'clock by Major John T. Nance, commandant of cadets, and Mrs. Nance. "Officers' call" on the bugle announced the opening of the dance and "taps" its end. Battery B of the National Guard sent a detachment to give an exhibition of artillery in action during an intermission. There were a number of invited guests from the Presidio.

The tango and the other progressive dances against which a taboo has been expressed on several occasions by the senior women obtruded themselves upon the floor soon after the opening. The dance had progressed less than an hour when some of the dancers ventured into the steps of the progressive dances. At the conclusion of the dance the music was stopped and announcement was made that in case of a continued infringement of the rule, the music would be again stopped and not renewed.

Those few couples who had been indulging in the Boston and other of the progressive dances, promised to be good and the dancing proceeded without further hitch.

Among the honored guests at the dance were Major Geary, Captain Mallet, and Lieutenants Underhill and Castle from the Presidio. Captains Gove and Dyer, from the naval training station on Yerba Buena island and Captain Bauer of the naval militia of California.

BURGLARS AND SNEAK THIEVES ARE ACTIVE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21—Burglars and sneak thieves were active in different parts of the city last last night and a number of reports were made at headquarters today.

Emil Ross, of 732 Howard street, reports that his saloon door was forced and $20 taken from the cash register.

The same burglar is believed to have broken the panel of the door of the saloon at Howard and Fifth street, owned by J. O'Keefe but nothing was taken.

Henry Rickleff, cashier of the General Benevolent Society, Fourteenth and Noe streets, notified the Mission station that his desk had been forced and $7.60 had been stolen.

J. A. Blank, of 2669 Mission street, was robbed of a $100 pin while on a car early this morning.

POCKETS PICKED BY WOMAN.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—It cost Pedro Cararribias, of 90 East [illegible] early this morning. He was walking along California street, on his way to his hotel when a woman stopped him and asked him how to reach Third and Market streets. He stopped to give her the directions and she engaged him in conversation. When he reached his room he found that his purse containing all his money had been stolen.

GOV. JOHNSON IS BERKELEY SPEAKER

Makes First Address of Gubernatorial Campaign in This County.

than a living wage, and our industrial commission is at work today to assure our working women in this State a fair and a just compensation for their labors. To provide for those other derelicts that the rising tide of immigration brings to [illegible] is bending its every effort.

FAIR START FOR ALL.

"Thus we are dealing, wherever we may directly, with the human problem. By legislative enactment wherever it was possible we have sought to help those upon whom the heaviest burdens have been thrown. Thus our glorious progressivism has provided for every human being in our State a fair start. It has brought sunshine into darkened lives. It has given happiness where before no happiness lay. It has done [illegible] not [illegible] ment, but through hundreds, not by means of one commission, but by many. Such advantageous and tremendous benefits it has conferred as to condemn before they are spoken the words of the man who would cavil at expense.

"But I have still to tell you of the greatest of all the achievements of the Progressive party in California to this time. Perhaps no law we have enacted has attracted as much scrutiny, and from those who did not understand or whose pockets were touched by it so much criticism, as the workingman's compensation act. Much as this law may have been misunderstood, it is a law of humanity. It appeals to our sense of justice, and our sense of economy as well. It seeks to provide in times of stress for those who are injured in industrial enterprise. It means not to place upon those least able to bear it all the burden, but to throw that burden upon the people as a whole. It goes to the woman when her husband, with broken body, is brought home to her door, and says:

"We, the community, will bear this burden for you.

NOT EMPIRICISM.

"The adoption of this law in California, may I add, was not a venture in empiricism. Bismarck saw the need of some such law first and had it adopted in Germany. Other nations followed suit until today not a European country remains without its humane provisions, excepting Turkey alone. Yet it has aroused criticism, and its critics, the enemies of progressivism and humanitarianism in California, are asking that we abandon it and again follow the example which Turkey sets for us.

"Our insistence in this law is that men shall figure in the cost of producing their commodities their human beings as well as their machines. It is impossible to stem this sort of legislation. Business men will do well to remember that this sort of administration has come to stay in the United States and that it never will be repealed. In the years more all the people of California will have seen the righteousness of this enactment and will praise it as today those who were once enemies of our great railroad commission now praise it for its establishment.

"No candidate for office will dare hereafter come upon this platform and say publicly that he stands for the repeal of any of the acts of the Progressive administration. He may say so privately, but he will not do it publicly. Every one of the candidates who hereafter face you will say publicly that he approves the things we have done. Yet I conjure you to beware what he may subsequently do. When some of those gentlemen come into your halls and say to you that they believe in these things you may let their records justify you in a mental reservation. In this campaign there will be that constant contrast of record and promise. You will be asked to take mere pledge against actual achievement.

DENIES EXTRAVAGANCE.

"There is one answer that has been made to Progressivism, one reply only that has been made to our achievements. I hear from end to end of California, fostered by the lying press to which we have done grave harm, the wonderful extravagance of our administration. The figures I have seen printed to prove this assertion have in them not the slightest foundation, not the slightest basis in truth.

"The increase in expenditures of the last two legislatures, each over its predecessor, has been less than with any past legislature, less than in any previous decade. Our State has been more economically run than ever before, and this in face of the fact that we have got more out of our government than ever before.

"The State has, for instance, for the first time, engaged in the purchase of its own securities. We have under way several very great projects with which you are familiar, of which two typical ones are the improvement of the water front and the building of our great State highway. When it came time for us to dispose of the bonds which made these possible we found this a very, very difficult task to accomplish. Then the State came to its own relief and already it has bought $3,000,000 worth of these securities itself. Does that look as if the Progressive administration had plunged the State into bankruptcy?

"Our public institutions, again, are more economically administered than ever before. It costs $23 per capita less in our insane asylums than it had cost in the past. The expenses connected with our normal schools are $13 lower than before. So it is with every department of government under this administration.

"COSTLY" TO OTHERS

"It has been a costly administration in another way. Yes, indeed! It has been costly to every political crook, to every special privilege, to every scheming contractor, to every other dishonest and unprincipled firm and person whom it has prevented from continuing to exploit the State for private gain as in the past. Those were 'economical' days when everybody who pleased could rob the government and the people of California. Do you wonder that the men who were accustomed to that sort of 'economy' in administration should cavil at laws that remove their former powers? The administration has been costly. It has cost the robber corporations thousands upon thousands of dollars but it has cost the people not one cent more.

"In all the departments and commissions of this great State of ours, then, have come system, economy, efficiency, refinement and, in a word, progressivism. It is for the people of the State now to say whether this sort of thing shall go on. It's for the people to say what they want the State of [illegible] your government and your struggle. You are not going to turn back if you know the real facts; I have too much confidence in you to believe that is possible.

"In the next months you will learn these facts from the men who know how to tell them and tell them straight. There are enough of us to tell you the truth. From now on until the November elections we shall preach to you the one gospel in which an honest man can believe, in which you can believe, the gospel that California must and shall be free."

Eat a Lot, Then Eat More

Expert Bumps Tradition

DR. HUTCHINSON JOLTS OLD IDEAS

Preaches, Good and Substantial Diet and Hits at Divorces.

SOME ADVICE OF A DIETICIAN.

Eat a whole lot and then eat a whole lot more.

The time is coming when we shall be able to prevent diseases and keep a people in health.

Not one single disease is due to too much or too varied food.

Nearly all our fads in eating were started by dyspeptics.

When a food does not agree with you, leave it alone; but don't go about preaching to people with whom it does not disagree to follow your example.

The working ability of any class may be built up by increasing its food supply.

"Eat a lot, then eat a whole lot more," Dr. Woods Hutchinson, one of the best known hygienists in the United States told an audience at Hearst Hall yesterday afternoon; "then eat a whole lot more." Dr. Hutchinson's address was a plea throughout against sparsely filling the stomach. He preached good, substantial food and lots of it.

Dr. Hutchinson, who is known through [illegible] writings on health subjects, is clinical professor of medicine in the New York Polyclinic. His address was under the auspices of the department of medicine of the university. Introduced by Dr. George F. Reinhardt, university physician, he said:

"It is the job of no one particular person to keep the community in health. The community must do that itself. Good food and plenty of it, fresh air and sunshine and rest are rapidly taking the place of medicine. The time is coming when we shall be able to prevent disease and keep a people in health, entering into a contract with a 'patient' to do as he desires.

ENERGY AND GRUB.

"The energy we are able to expend bears a direct ratio to the amount of food we eat. The science of dietetics has reached a stage where we are able now to map out just how much food a man needs to do the work before him, measuring it in calories or heat units. The man who does light work needs 2000 calories, medium work 3000 calories, heavy work 4000 calories.

"Of the foods on our tables 99 per cent are good foods. They are in our daily menu because, after testing by hundreds of generations, they have been found to be beneficial. Those persons who ate poisonous food died and were weeded out. Thus, by process of the law of survival of the fittest, those persons have remained alive who ate the most advisable foods. Things that taste good are, eight out of ten times, wholesome and nutritious.

"Physicians know of many diseases that are due to a lack of variety or quantity in food directly. They know of not one single disease that is due to too much food or too great a variety. Gout, diabetes and other diseases that were once attributed to overeating are now known to be the results of infection or other causes. Nearly all of our fads in eating were started by dyspeptics.

BROWN BREAD'S WORTH.

"Brown bread is inferior in food value to white bread and has so much waste of a certain sort that it sets up irritations in the alimentary canal. It has obtained its vogue because of the recommendation of a dyspeptic. The same applies to the patent breakfast foods. They are not economic. So far as nutriment is concerned we might as well eat the labels on the packages as the 'shredded doormats' and the like that they contain. Eat breakfast foods if you like, but be sure to eat your breakfast first.

"Pork is not unclean or hard to digest and is an admirable and nutritious food. Sugar was once held to be dangerous and liable to set up disorders in the body. We find, instead, that up to three-quarters of a pound a day ought to be consumed by every normal individual. The liking of ice cream and sweetmeats of the young folks of today is altogether valid and should be encouraged up to the limit of bankruptcy. Butter is an excellent foodstuff, far better than any of the substitutes for it.

"To the rule that all food is good to eat must be made the exception that there are items which will be found by some individuals not to agree with them. We call these foods poisons, and among them are included strawberries, shellfish, cheeses, flavoring substances and even, in some cases, eggs and cow's milk. The only thing to be done when a person finds that such a food does not agree with him is to abstain from its use.

COFFEE AND TEA.

"But please do not go about preaching that all other persons abstain from it, too. Coffee and tea, for instance, disagree with from 3 to 5 per cent of all people, and I advise those people to let them alone. But I do not advise them to start anti-coffee or anti-tea fads for the 95 to 97 per cent of all persons who are not so affected.

"The working ability of any class, and its health as a direct result, may be built up by increasing its food supply, both in richness and in amount and variety. The working ability of at least a third of our people could be increased from 30 to 50 per cent simply by giving them more food. I am convinced that the solution of most of our industrial and social problems will be found to be the giving of men more money with which to buy food and shorter hours of work to permit their consuming it.

"There aren't any more divorces today than there ought to be," said the doctor, and shattered another tradition.

"The records show 12 per cent of marriage failures, or one marriage in eight a failure. Is there any other human institution which can make so good a showing? Business partnerships cannot begin to equal that record, nor can any human institution that I know."

NO LIGHT; FINED.

ALAMEDA, March 21. — Leslie de la Mater of 2646 San Antonio avenue failed to have a light on his bicycle last night and rode into the arms of Policeman Joseph Bettencourt. He was released on bail, his bicycle being held as security. This morning he pleaded guilty and was allowed his liberty upon payment of $1 fine.

Disordered Kidneys Cause Much Misery. With pain and misery by day, sleepless [illegible] bladder weakness at night, tired, nervous, [illegible] everywhere are glad to know that Foley Kidney Pills restore health and strength, also [illegible] of kidneys and bladder. Mrs. Sula Barnes, Bowdon, Ga., R. F. D. 1, says: "I suffered with terrible headache, backache and bearing down pains, so bad I was hardly able to get around. I took three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and since then I have been entirely well." Sold everywhere. —Advertisement.

DEDICATE GREAT NEW REVIVAL HALL

Tabernacle for Ostrom Service Is Dedicated at Afternoon Meeting.

BERKELEY, March 21.—The great tabernacle at Durant avenue and Ellsworth street, in use for the interdenominational revival services being conducted by Dr. Henry Ostrom was dedicated with appropriate ceremony this afternoon. The revival is to continue for a month. The tablernacle was built by the ministers and laymen of the several downtown Protestant churches interested in the protracted meeting and seats 3500 people.

Evangelist Ostrom presided at this afternoon's dedication. There were a number of out-of-town speakers, including Rev. J. B. Travis, pastor of the First Baptist church at Stockton; Rev. J. H. Lundy, pastor of the Stockton First Presbyterian church; Rev. W. S. Matthews, Vallejo; Rev. D. H. Mabley, Vallejo, and Rev. J. C. Ahrens, Stockton. Pastors from various bay churches occupied seats on the rostrum.

In a striking sermon on the theme "Prepare Ye the Way for the Lord," Dr. Ostrom last night said that John the Baptist who uttered this great sentence was referred to asa voice—"The Voice of one crying in the wilderness," and when a man is called a 'voice' you can depend upon it that he is saying something worth while." Dr. Ostrom said the reason we did not accomplish more in the churches was because we hindered God by our quarrelsomeness. Baptists and Methodists and Presbyterians and the rest were quarreling among themselves and with one another. We must prepare the way of the Lord by getting the obstacles out of the way and the greatest of these hindrances is quarrelsome churches and church members.

An extensive campaign is being planned for next week when the evangelist and his party will conduct morning meetings in many of the surrounding cities such as Oakland, Alameda, Richmond, etc.

CAMINETTI MAY BE BOURBONS' CHOICE

The Immigration Commissioner May Resign Office to Run for Governor.

United States Immigration Commissioner Anthony J. Caminetti is expected to resign office for the purpose of running for Governor on the Democratic ticket. Caminetti has had the gubernatorial bee in his bonnet for some time, but it has only made a noise like a buzz. Today he is willing to admit that he will be in on the race and may attempt to bring with him into the limelight of the commonwealth Lorin A. Handley, president of the Los Angeles Board of Public Works, as a running mate.

The story goes that Congressman John E. Raker, who has been mentioned as a candidate on the Democratic firing line will not run for the office. Raker, it is understood, has determined to support Caminetti if the Commissioner determines to get into the fight.

It was in Sacramento at the recent session of the legislature that Caminetti showed first inclination to step into Governor Johnson's shoes. He was a steadfast supporter of the Wilson administration and a right-hand man to Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan when the latter was involved in the study of the anti-alien law situation. It is said that if it had not been for Caminetti Bryan would not have been able to have handled the controversy with the degree of diplomacy that he finally displayed.

It is reported that Caminetti will hand in his resignation as immigration commissioner some time next month. The President, it is rumored, will give him administration support for the office so far as it [illegible] for him to do so with official dignity.

NEW HAVEN DISSOLUTION PLANS ALMOST COMPLETE

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Plans for the New Haven dissolution had reached the stage today where attorneys for the Department of Justice and the railroad expected to lay the details of the road's dissolution before Attorney General McReynolds.

Only a few points considered of minor importance remained to be agreed on when the lawyers met in conference. It was their hope, though, to be able to lay the whole plan before Mr. McReynolds today.

OLD HUNTINGTON HOME HAS BEEN DEMOLISHED

SACRAMENTO, March 21.—The old mansion of Collis P. Huntington, founder and president of the Central and Southern Pacific railroads, has been demolished.

This residence, on M street between Third and Fourth, which was the scene of great fetes in the early sixties, shortly after the Central Pacific was constructed, is being replaced by a modern structure costing $14,500, a Japanese ho-

TO DISCUSS CITY PLANS.

BERKELEY, March 21. — Duncan McDuffie, [illegible] real estate man and alumnus of the university, will be the speaker next Tuesday evening at 101 California hall on the college campus in the series of city planning lectures now drawing toward a close. McDuffie's subject will be "The Development of Residence Districts Under Wise Restrictions." The lecture is open to the public.

WHEAT EASES, THEN REACTION

Opening Figures Are a Shade Lower; Business in Corn Reduced.

CHICAGO, March 21.—Wheat today showed a tendency to ease off in sympathy with bearish cables. Opening figures were a shade to ¼c lower. Subsequently there was some reaction. Business in corn proved greatly reduced in volume compared with that of the two previous days. Prices started a sixteenth to ⅛c down and suffered an additional sag before beginning [illegible]

Afterward cheaper offerings from Argentina exerted a depressing influence. The close was steady, ⅛c to ⅛@¼c under last night.

Oats—Descended with corn. Not a great deal of selling pressure was evident.

Larger receipts of hogs than expected made provisions weak. First sales varied from 2½@8½c lower, and a further drop quickly ensued.

SPECULATION IS SLOW ON 'CHANGE

Market Is Quiet; Steel Loses Point; Variations Are Trivial.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Speculation lacked initiative when trading began today and the market lay quiet. Reading showed some of the strength which advanced it as rapidly as yesterday, rising nearly a point. Bethlehem Steel lost one. Variations from the preceding close otherwise were trivial.

The market closed heavy. Speculative buying forced prices higher temporarily today, but the market [illegible] its gain later and last figures showed declines among the favorite stocks. Some of the low-priced railroad and industrial shares were taken freely, touching the best figures of a long time.

The coalers and eastern trunk line issues were again foremost in the advance. The decline was hastened by a break in the Rumely issues, the preferred losing 4½.

Some extension of the gains brought in selling orders from [illegible] buyers and prices receded. Amalgamated and New Haven. Rumely dropped nearly 2 points.

The bonds were irregular.

MONEY WANTED

A GOOD RESOLUTION.
Just this: Keep your funds (and don't ignore small amounts) safely and profitably invested IN LOMBARD & SON, INC. FIRST FARM MORTGAGES.
When you have $20 or any larger amount on hand not needed at present, invest it in a certificate and have it earn 6%. When you have paid in 20 installments of $20 each you get a $400 certificate or 1-10th of a $4000 mortgage on property worth over $12,000.
If you have $400 you may pay for the certificate in one payment, or buy as many certificates as you desire, or you may purchase an entire first mortgage farm loan, $800 up to $10,000. You will be surprised at the resultant profit.
We shall be pleased to further explain these investments.

Figures Past Five Months Are Less Than Corresponding Period of 1913.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Imports into the United States in the five months since the new tariff became effective were less than those in the corresponding months one year ago, according to preliminary foreign trade figures announced today by the department of commerce. In the five months beginning with last October, goods valued at $769,691,343, were imported, compared with $798,155,684 in the same period one year ago.

crease of 16 per cent in exports is shown in last February's preliminary figures, compared with that month in 1913. The total foreign trade for the month amounted to $323,745,479, with a balance in favor of the United States of $23,871,457. The trade balance for the year ending with February amounted to $656,568,908, or $90,887,207 more than in the twelve months ending with February, 1913.

Of the February imports 61.6 per cent entered duty free, compared with 59.7 per cent in February, 1913.

NO PRINTERS JAILED: PAPER IS PUZZLE

The following is from Print Shop Talk of Los Angeles: "After deciding recently to publish a monthly paper at the Illinois state penitentiary at Joliet, to be edited by the convicts, with a former prominent banker as editor, the prison officials were somewhat embarrassed—not to say surprised—to find that there was not one printer among the 1500 inmates of that institution. Repeatedly it has become necessary to discontinue the publication of the prisoners' paper in the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus because of the absence of printers"—Print Shop Talk, L. A.

WOMAN WEAK AND NERVOUS

Finds Health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Creston, Iowa.—"I suffered with female troubles from the time I came into womanhood until I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I would have pains if I overworked or lifted anything heavy, and I would be so weak and nervous and in so much misery that I would be prostrated. A friend told me what your medicine had done for her and I tried it. It made me strong and healthy and our home is now happy with a baby boy. I am very glad that I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and do all I can to recommend it."—Mrs. A. B. BOSCAMP, 504 E. Howard Street, Creston, Iowa.

Tons of Roots and Herbs

are used annually in the manufacture of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is known from ocean to ocean as the standard remedy for female ills.

For forty years this famous root and herb medicine has been pre-eminently successful in controlling the diseases of women. Merit alone could have stood this test of time.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

R. R. AGENT AND CANDIDATE CLASH

Ben Benjamin and J. M. Bettencourt Are Principals in Mill.

SAN LEANDRO, March 21.—A disagreement between Ben Benjamin, Westcourt, a candidate for constable, came to a head yesterday afternoon when, according to eye-witnesses, the men came to blows at the corner of Hayes and Davis street.

Bettencourt is said to have taken offense at something Benjamin said and to have gone down to the railroad depot and asked Benjamin to apologize. On coming up from the depot later Benjamin was accosted by Bettencourt and the mill followed, in which Benjamin is said to have been knocked down. The station agent denies participation in the affair this morning, and said he knew nothing about the disagreement.

LIGHTS MATCH TO READ METER; EXPLOSION

FRUITVALE, March 21.—A violent explosion, followed by a fire, occurred in the notion store of Mrs. E. M. Lynch on East Fourteenth street, near Thirty-third avenue, this morning. When a gas meter inspector lit a match to read the meter. The meter had been leaking badly and the gas fumes which filled the recess in which it is located exploded. The inspector had a narrow escape from being severely burned by the burst of flame, which set fire to the woodwork. Owing to the combustible nature of the stock it looked as though a serious fire would result, but the fire was kept in check by Mrs. Lynch and the neighbors until the arrival of the fire department, which prevented the flames from spreading. The damage amounted to about $50.

ENTERTAINMENT AT MELROSE TONIGHT

MELROSE, March 21.—Melrose Central Hall, East Fourteenth street and Fortieighth avenue, will be the scene of an elaborate entertainment and dance this evening under the auspices of the members of St. Bernard's church. A splendid program, including a variety of stunts, will be presented and the affair promises to be as successful as any given by the church. The arrangement committee has secured the services of the pick of local and outside talent for instrumental and vocal music, recitations, dancing and comedy features. The entertainment will be followed by a dance. Supervisor John Mullins heads the arrangement committee.

HOLD FUNERAL OF MURDERED RANCHER

ELMHURST, March 21.—The remains of Frederick F. Altschwager, the Elmhurst rancher who died in Alameda sanitarium after being shot by a holdup man, were interred this afternoon in Evergreen cemetery. The funeral, which was public, was attended by many of decedent's relatives and friends. Services were held at the funeral parlors of C. N. Cooper.

Altschwager, who was 48 years of age, was a native of Germany. He was a son of Johannes and the late Johanna Altschwager of Germany and uncle of Hans Altschwager of Elmhurst.

SPECIAL SERVICES WILL BE HELD IN HAYWARD

HAYWARD, March 21.—The forward movement committee of the Methodist church has agreed to hold special services all Passion Week. Addresses will be given each night by Rev. Irving E. Thompson. A conference followed by a musical program was given by the committee this week. The affair was in charge of Mrs. E. M. Johnson. Miss Mina Brant, Miss Elvis Morris, Miss Blanche Morris, Miss Dorothy Venus, Miss Agnes Nelson and Mrs. I. E. Thompson.

DOUBLE BIRTHDAY PARTY IS GIVEN

HAYWARD, March 21.—Mrs. E. S. Warren of this city and Mrs. E. V. Keith of Castro Valley, whose birthdays fall on the same day, celebrated the double event at a party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Thursday. The evening was spent in music and dancing, and a repast was served.

TO AIR DEAN-WRIGHT QUARREL IN COURT

RICHMOND, March 21.—After a number of postponements, the trial of P. M. Dean, prominent local liquor dealer and politician, on a charge of disturbing the peace, sworn to by Officer Sam Wright of the Richmond police department, has been set for next Tuesday morning. Attorney Lee D. Windren has entered a demurrer to the charge filed and this will be argued.

The trial is the second chapter of the arrest of Dean by Wright. Dean filed charges of brutality against the officer and a trial of the policemen was held before the city council. The council has not yet given its decision in the matter.

W. C. T. U. TO GIVE MEDAL CONTESTS

Singing and Recitations Will Form Program at Hayward.

HAYWARD, March 21.—A double silver medal singing and reciting contest will be given Friday evening, April 3, under Christian Temperance Union. The first part of the program will consist of recitations. While the judges are deciding the winner in this section, the song contest will take place before another set of judges. A silver medal will be presented to each of the successful contestants.

Each contest will have a large entry, many young people having signified their intention of trying out their skill in recitation and singing against one another, and the contest will no doubt attract a crowded house.

YOUNG HUSBAND UNDER ARREST FOR NON-SUPPORT

IRVINGTON, March 21.—Arrested at Irvington, Alameda county, on a warrant sworn to by his wife, who charges him with non-support, Franklin Albat, a young man who was employed at Mare Island navy yard up to a short time ago, was taken to Vallejo last evening by Constable James Ward, and is now confined to a cell in the city prison awaiting a hearing before Justice of the Peace Arthur Lindauer.

Albat went to Vallejo with his wife several months ago and accepted employment in the hull division at the navy yard, where he was assigned to duty in the scaling gang. After he had worked a few weeks he gave up his employment. Shortly after quitting the yard he took his departure from Vallejo, and since that time, his wife says, has shown no inclination to contribute to her support.

Mrs. Albat filed the complaint charging her husband with non-support in Judge Lindauer's court, and he was located here, where he was placed under arrest and held for Constable Ward.

DELEGATES NAMED TO VISIT GRAND PARLOR

SAN LEANDRO, March 21.—Estudillo Parlor of Native Sons at a meeting this week elected E. J. Hoerst and W. G. Muntz as delegates to the grand parlor, which convenes in Los Angeles. Farley C. Granger, who lives here will represent Watsana Parlor of Alameda at the convention.

The grand parlor will decide where the Admission Day celebrations will be held. Vallejo and Santa Rosa have already put in a claim for the honor.

A vice-presidents' association of Native Sons was formed this week in Oakland. W. C. Muntz of San Leandro, has been elected charter first vice-governor. Several San Leandro past grands were initiated at the meeting.

"FUNERAL NOTICE" ONLY INVITATION TO CHURCH

HAYWARD, March 21.—The notice of his Sunday sermon has been issued by Rev. Irving E. Thompson in the form of a circular in deep mourning: "Funeral notice. All who are interested are respectfully requester to attend the funeral service of A. Boozer, to be conducted at 7:30 p. m., at the Methodist Episcopal church, Hayward."

This will be the first of a series of sermons dealing with present day social [illegible] which will be delivered on succeeding Sundays, will be: "The Infidel," "The Cranky Church Member," and "The Miser."

CAPTAIN BOWEN WILL INSPECT MILITIAMEN

HAYWARD, March 21.—Company H, National Guard, will be inspected April 23 by Captain Bowen, United States war department, inspector general of the California National Guard. The company is drilling for the inspection and a number of new recruits have been enrolled, bringing the company up to war strength. Among the new members is J. Brymer, who saw service in the Spanish-American war, as a sharpshooter in the First Tennessee sharpshooters.

FORMER HAYWARD GIRL HONORED BY FRIENDS

HAYWARD, March 21.—Mrs. Van Obermuller, who before her marriage to Van Obermuller, cashier in an Oakland bank, was Miss Myrtle Kelser, will be entertained by a number of her friends at a dancing party tomorrow evening in the Bank of Hayward Hall. Members of the Informal Social Club of which Mr. and Mrs. Van Obermuller are prominent members, have arranged the affair for the young bride, who has just returned from her honeymoon.

WAR VETERANS PLAN FOR MEMORIAL DAY

RICHMOND, March 24.—The members of Richmond Post No. 21, Grand Army of the Republic, has decided to turn the observances of Memorial day over to Henry Stotsenburg Camp of the United Spanish Water Veterans. This is done because there is not a member in the grand army post here less than 67 years of age and the old soldiers feel that their younger comrades will be better able to handle the details than they.

This will be the first formal observance of Memorial day since Richmond was founded. Owing to the fact that for several years this city had no cemetery and again to the reason that very few of the local people had their dead buried here, the day was never observed. A committee composed of S. B. Kirby, O. A. Poulsen and O. E. Smedley are handling the details for the veterans.

JURISDICTION PLEA HALTS LARSON TRIAL

PORTLAND, March 21.—Contention by attorneys for the defense that the court lacked jurisdiction yesterday halted temporarily the case against John Larson, husband of Troutdale's mayor, L. Helming and Bert Edmondson, in the district court. The men had been arrested following an investigation instituted by Mayoress Larson, on a charge of selling liquor to minors. Decision as to jurisdiction was withheld until next Tuesday, been summoned were taken before the grand jury.

W. A. GORDON CO. CLOSES OFFICE

Direct Result of Sudden Disappearance Here of Portland Grain Broker.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—As the direct result of the disappearance on February 15 of W. A. Gordon, president of the W. A. Gordon company, grain brokers, of Portland and San Francisco, the local office of the concern was closed today. Gordon dropped from sight while on a trip to this city. He never communicated again with his office at Portland and while it was known that he left here for Paso Robles, no trace whatever has been found of him.

The report of his disappearance was [illegible] request has ever been received by the local police to find him. While here he stopped at the Hotel Maryland, Geary and Taylor streets, where he is known to have been from December 31 to February 14, when he left hurriedly. He was visited by his wife for four days, Mrs. Gordon arriving from Portland on January 31.

His daughter, a pupil at Miss Harker's school, Palo Alto, has repeatedly inquired at the local offices of the firm here as to her father's whereabouts. Gordon was a member of the Arlington club of Portland. He is 50 years old, 5 feet 10, weighs 156 pounds and wears a dark mustache and goatee.

WEEK'S MARKET REVIEW PROMISING

Firm Undertone Indicates an Achievement of Strength.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The firm undertone of the stock market this week indicated that professional selling had been carried to a sufficient extent to bring about a strong technical position. Some [illegible] railroad stocks and speculative bonds were weak, but the representative securities moved narrowly.

European selling at times held back the market. Foreign holders of railroad securities were disturbed by the financial difficulties of various systems and London was depressed by the Ulster crisis. At home the speculative position was changed in no particular. Filing of the anti-trust suit against Lehigh Valley made only a passing impression on the anthracite stocks. Railroad shares benefited by intimations from Washington that the administration favored an increase in freight rates for Eastern lines.

Among the industrials there was a noticeable improvement of sentiment respecting the coppers on account of the increased demand for the metal and the higher prices here and abroad. Steel trade reports, however, were less favorable. New business was not large and in some instances curtailment of operations was necessitated.

LAURITZEN'S BODY FOUND AT ANTIOCH

Brother of Richmond Transportation Man Arises From the Mud.

RICHMOND, March 21.—H. P. Lauritzen, president of the Richmond Transportation Company, hurried to Antioch today on receipt of the news that the body of his brother Robert had been found in the river near the up-country town. The missing man dropped from sight a few days ago and a quiet search was being conducted for him. It is presumed that he must have fallen off of one of the several small launches which the company operates between Antioch and the numerous up-country towns.

The dead man was well known to steamer and river transportation men. In addition to being an owner in the local freight ferry line he was also interested in several small crafts operated in the Sacramento and San Joaquin river delta. The funeral will likely be held from his late home at Rio Vista.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR FREDERICK T. MARTIN

NEW YORK, March 21. — The funeral of Frederick Townsend Martin, who died recently in London, was held today from Grace Church. Burial will be in Albany, N. Y.

FUTURE OF OAKLAND.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: The writer has greatly enjoyed a few months in California and nowhere more than in beautiful Oakland.

Your editorial last evening on Oakland's opportunity during the exposition was apropos. The occasion for this exposition is primarily patriotic. Every man, woman and child in the nation is an interested person. In some small way each has contributed to the completion of the world's great inter-ocean waterway. In like manner has every one some interest in the celebration of this great human achievement. The bay cities of California have the duty and burden as well as the privilege and opportunity, of officiating, not for California alone, but for the whole United States.

There will probably not be 10,000,000 non-resident visitors, as you suggest, but there are likely to be as many as can be cared for. Oakland, with her comfortable homes and patriotic citizens, has potential possibilities that rarely come to any city.

They will be wise in time and not allow visitors to be exploited for petty profits. Your visitors will be thinkers; the very cream of American citizenry, whose impressions of your country and your people's hospitality will be far-reaching. Practically all of these visiting [illegible] entertaining. Not gratuitously, but hospitably, at reasonable prices. It takes no mathematician to tell that if your have one-half the visitors indicated in your editorial, many o' your good homes will have to be thrown open for lodgings.

This has been the experience of all exposition cities. Even Chicago was no exception.

If Oakland's slogan is "Golden Rule Hospitality" to all exposition visitors she will greatly aid her future growth, is the opinion of

PROPOSES TO BUILD UP HOME WORK

Elder Eastman of Adventists Has Plan for Extension of Missionary Movement.

Elder W. W. Eastman, secretary of the publishing department of the North American Division Conference, laid before the delegates attending the biennial convention of the Pacific Union Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists, a plan for a home missionary movement that will take in nearly every one of its 70,000 members in North America. This home missionary movement is a new feature of the denomination, and has been introduced to the conferences in various parts of this country and Canada within the last few months. Elder [illegible] preachers and other workers in other parts of America have adopted this plan, and are now organizing their churches for an active soul winning campaign.

Briefly, this plan is to have every individual church member in America become an active missionary and thus hasten the consummation of the Advent doctrine. The idea is to organize the churches into missionary bands, each with its own leader and divide the cities and country places in the North Pa[illegible] territory into districts, and work them in a systematic way. These bands are to distribute tracts and other literature, hold Bible readings, visit the sick and engage in other Christian endeavor.

TO HAVE LEADERS.

The speaker said that nearly 3000 churches in North America ought to have a church missionary society in each of them, the membership to include church members, missionary volunteers and youth and children who attend the church, but who are not members. These societies, according to the plan, are to have leaders and assistants, with a working committee who will devise ways and means of getting every member of the church to do some regular, systematic missionary work. This committee is to be composed of men and women who have had personal experience in different lines of missionary endeavor, who can teach others how to work, who have tact and good judgment and who are consecrated to God.

Another recommendation suggested was that regular missionary meetings should be held at weekly intervals where plans for the advancement of this movement could be worked out.

So thorough has it been planned to advance this movement that each society is to report to the division conference its progress or its difficulties. It was suggested that the Seventh-Day Adventist denomination has a very complete system of reporting, and through this system those who occupy positions of responsibility in any part of the world can keep in touch with the progress of the world-wide message the denomination has undertaken to give. Through it the leaders at headquarters can find the places that require reinforcement and strengthen them.

ANOTHER SUGGESTION.

Another thought suggested was this: "Inasmuch as there is a world to warn, it is important that territory be worked in such a systematic manner that it may be known when every house in any district has been visited, and some literature left there.

J. A. Westermyer, accompanied by his wife and two children, left San Francisco today for Santiago, Chile, where he goes as a missionary for the Seventh-day Adventist denomination. He will be secretary-treasurer of the conference in that country. Mr. Westermyer was formerly a student of the Clinton (Mo.) German Seminary, a denominational institution. It was announced at the convention that Pastor W. A. Spicer, secretary of the General or World Conference, will return to Washington in a week or so and shortly afterward sail for Jamaica, West Indies, where he will take part in a meeting to be held there similar to the one that has been in session in Oakland.

KAHN'S EMPLOYES TO GIVE AN EXCURSION

The employes of Kahn's store have planned their annual picnic and baseball excursion for next Tuesday. The scene of this year's outing will be Fernbrook park in Niles canyon and those who remember the good time attending this event in past years look forward to coming home tired but happy after their day's outing.

The baseball game with the Essanay Film company team, which will take place at Niles at 2:30, promise to be a good one. The four hundred rooters who will attend the game will include the wives and children of the Kahn employes.

Special trains have been chartered to take the pleasure seekers to the scene, and special music engaged to make the dance, which will take place in the afternoon, an enjoyable one.

TWO CRAFTS ARRIVE FOR AVIATION SCHOOL

RICHMOND, March 21.—Two aeroplanes for instruction purposes have arrived from the plant of the Curtiss Aeroplane Company in Ohio for use of the school of aviation which the company has established on the south bay shore. The school is in charge of Aviator Curtis Hassell, assisted by A. O. Huff, and is almost in shape for the purpose of giving instruction to young men who would follow this game.

The school is located on the bay shore just opposite the exposition grounds and the promoters plan to sell aeroplanes to fair visitors in 1915. The parts will be manufactured in the East and assembled here.

Stork and Cupid Cunning Plotters

Many a New Home will Have a Little Sunbeam to Brighten it.

There is some dread in every woman's mind as to the probable pain, distress and danger of child-birth. But, thanks to a remarkable remedy known as Mother's Friend, the period is one of joyful anticipation.

Mother's Friend is a penetrating, external application. It makes the muscles of the stomach and abdomen pliant so they expand easily and naturally without pain, and with none of that peculiar nausea, nervousness and [illegible] symptoms that make many a prospective mother. Thus Cupid and the stork are rated as cunning plotters to herald the coming of a little sunbeam to gladden the hearts and homes.

Thousands of women know from experience Mother's Friend is one of our greatest contributions to happy motherhood. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Especially recommended as a preventive of caking breast.

TOOTH DRILLS EXCHANGED FOR DIAMOND EARRINGS

Exchanged; a pair of diamond earrings for a fine dental parlor with a red plush chair, shining instruments, and a beautiful buzzing drill, guaranteed to make many a poor wight squirm, and to dig joyously into any tender nerve that it hits. The exchange took place yesterday, and both parties say they're satisfied.

The jewelry was put up by Mrs. F. S. Barber, as security for her husband when he bought an interest in the Oakland Dental parlor, conducted by Katheryn Pohl and J. L. Patterson. Barber purchased the woman's share of the business, and the earrings were security.

This took place on July 10, 1913. Last month Barber, it is alleged, failed to pay his installment, and Miss Pohl took possession, wearing the earrings. Mrs. Barber wanted her jewelry back, and as the result of the argument the money was paid, the earrings returned to their former owner, and all concerned were happy.

"I didn't want the earrings. I wanted the money," said Miss Pohl.

"She wanted the earrings so I had to give her the money," said Mrs. Barber.

HURT CHASING RAT. ASKS CITY DAMAGES

ST. JOHNS, Mich., March 21.—George Brown, motorman on the St. John's-Lansing car of the Michigan United Traction Company, has brought suit against the city of St. John's for $10,000. A rat, a steel roof and Brown's leg are inextricably mixed in the declaration, which is on file in the Clinton Circuit Court here.

Brown sets forth that while he was walking up Clinton avenue one evening last June, a large gray rat leaped out ahead of him and bolted behind some articles set out by a hardware store. Brown joined the chase. Just as the rat seemingly was cornered a section of steel roofing which was standing in front of the store, tipped over and snapped the bones of his leg. He holds the city responsible for permitting the roofing to stand on the walk.

If a woman is thin she can make up for it, but there is no help for the obese.
